CHICAGO POLICE FIRE ON MOB RIOTERS

'IRON LUNG' SAVAGE MELEE IN STREETS

Hole Must Be Cut In Liner's Side

Shanghai, To-day.

Frederick Snite, Junior, who for the last fourteen months has been kept alive by the "iron lung" method of producing artificial breathing, is expected to leave Peiping to-day for the United States.

He will leave for Shanghai by a special train and will then embark aboard a Dollar liner in Shanghai.

The side of the vessel will have to be cut to enable the "iron lung" breathing apparatus to be installed in the cabin.

The patient is only 26 years of age and is the son of an American millionaire.—Reuter.

PARIS-TOKYO FLIGHT RECORD

Further Attempts Now
Forbidden

Paris, To-day.

Following the failure of the latest attempt to cover the distance from Paris to Tokyo in 100 hours, the French Air Ministry has forbidden, for the time being, any further bid for the 400,000 francs prize.—Trans-Ocean.

MORE PRISONERS EXCHANGED

Press Representative
Released

St. Jean de Luz, To-day.

A further exchange of prisoners took place at 9.30 p.m. to-night.

Franco's prisoners released included two Russian and one Spanish airmen, and the Havas News Agency representative, M. Mallet, who was arrested a month ago.

The Basques freed three German aviators and one Swiss volunteer.—Trans-Ocean.

STRIKE OR STARVE SIEGE OF FACTORY

Chicago, To-day.

Grim details of the Chicago fighting show that after the battle had involved police and steel strikers and pickets, in which eighteen strikers and one policeman were left injured in the street, two of them fatally, a crowd of about one thousand marched towards the factory of the Republic Steel Company and clashed with one hundred police.

THE POLICE FIRST USED RIOT CLUBS AGAINST THE STRIKERS, AND WHEN THEY FOUND THEMSELVES BEING OVERWHELMED FIRED THEIR PISTOLS INTO THE AIR AS A WARNING AND THEN INTO THE MOB.

AT LEAST 200 SHOTS WERE FIRED.

FIVE PRISON VANS WERE DRIVEN INTO THE MOB IN AN ATTEMPT TO FORCE THE DEMONSTRATORS BACK AND MANY WERE RUN DOWN AND SEVERELY INJURED.

Huge pieces of broken paving-stones are also stated to have been thrown by the police before the crowd dispersed in confusion.

The police declare that they are unable to estimate the number of demonstrators shot, clubbed or otherwise injured in the hectic melee.—Reuter.

PITCHED BATTLE

Chicago, Earlier.

A pitched battle between strikers, non-strikers and police at the Republic Steel Company's South Chicago factory yesterday, resulted in four deaths from injuries, while 63 strikers and 23 policemen were injured.

Before the battle ensued, non-striking workers in the Republic Steel Company's South Chicago factory, although closely besieged by pickets, played baseball and attended religious services conducted by clergymen who were brought to the factory.

The Union's policy of strike or starve received indirect assistance from the Government Postal authorities, in the latter refusing, as irregular mails, food which was addressed to non-strikers in the hope that the Post Office would pierce the picket lines.

The strikes have caused a 17 per cent. drop in the national weekly production, causing losses to the management and workers estimated at $3,000,000 a week.—Reuter.

Missionary's Death After Capture By "Reds"

Shanghai, To-day.

Following a lengthy illness, the Norwegian missionary, the Rev. K. I. Samset, who was captured by Communists on June 5, 1936, has died in the Lishan district of Hupeh, about 70 miles from Hankow, according to a reliable report.—Reuter.

FAMOUS RESORT BURNT OUT

Amsterdam, To-day.

The Schinkelbad, the biggest and most famous of the open-air baths of Amsterdam, was completely destroyed by fire. The outbreak occurred early yesterday morning and swept through the premises under the fanning of a steady breeze.

Owing to the prolonged period of hot weather, all the woodwork and the thatched roofs of the baths and outbuildings were so dry that the flames swept along at racehorse speed.

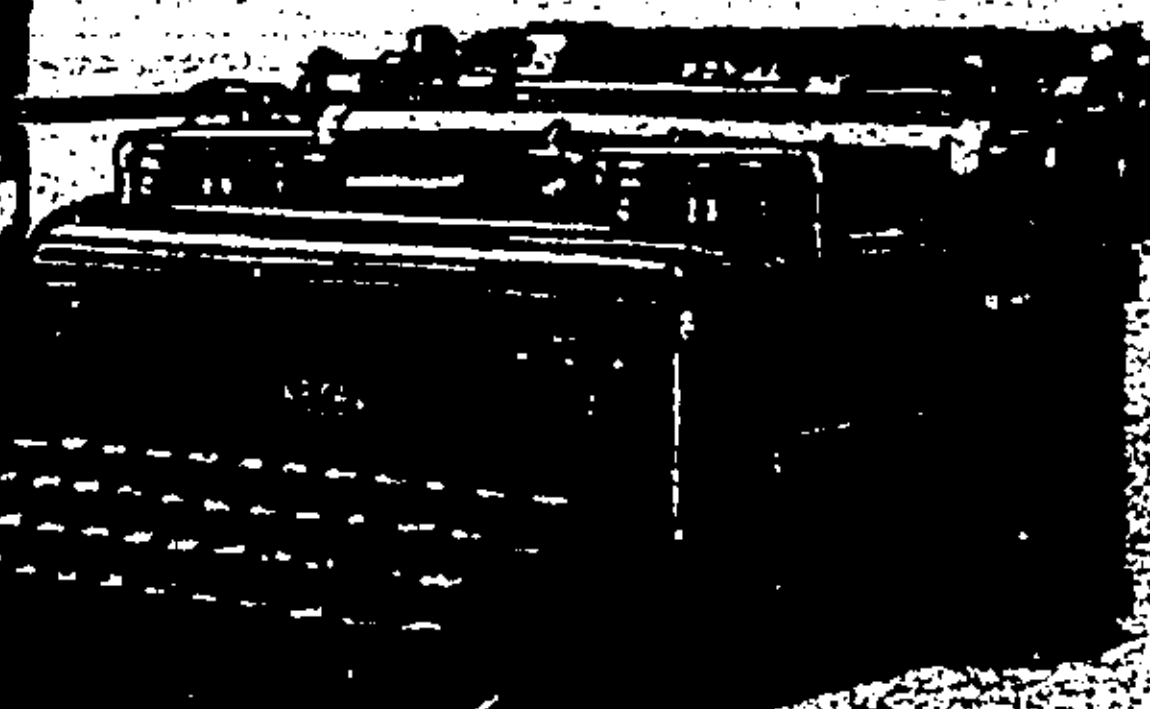

The fire brigade arrived soon after the alarm was given, but were too late to do more than save but a fragment of the famous establishment.—Trans-Ocean.

EIGHTIETH BIRTHDAY OF POPE PIUS XI

GREAT PROMINENCE GIVEN IN REICH TO CELEBRATION

Berlin, To-day.

Great prominence was given by Berlin newspapers yesterday to the fact that to-day, Pope Pius XI will celebrate his eightieth birthday, many papers seizing the opportunity of paying due recognition to the personal influence and beneficial work of the Pope since taking office in 1922.

Thus "Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung" gives an exhaustive account of the Pope's career up to the time of his consecration in 1922, and describes the treaties between the Vatican and Fascist Italy as the most important Church political event of the administration of Pope Pius XI.

In concluding, the journal declares that the world knows how until very recently the Pope used all the weight of his influence to induce peoples and governments to continue their struggle against Bolshevism.

Pius XI had always declared that the sole and real obstacle against the spread of Bolshevism was the Christian doctrine. That meant that the Church claimed the right to lead in the struggles that the Pope had begun against Bolshevism.

It is, nevertheless, the authoritarian States that up till now had really succeeded in carrying on this struggle successfully.

In a very similar way, the "Berliner Lokalanzeiger" gives a resume of the life of His Holiness, and recalls that Pius XI had issued several proclamations against Marxism, and, above all against Bolshevism.

But in actual practice, this struggle against a world enemy had, after all, been solely a business of authoritarian states.—Trans-Ocean.

HE SWALLOWED 3,000,000 DEAD? GERMS

Just to prove that a good germicide does its work well, Mr. G. B. Reilly, a young chemist, swallowed 3,000,000 dead germs—and lived last night to say:

"It's the first time a test of consumption has been applied to prove the germs are dead—at least I hope were dead..

"I shall know for certain in twelve days—the incubation period."

Test was made when Lady Roberts, wife of Sir Samuel Roberts, chairman of Newton Chambers and Company, Ltd., opened the firm's new chemical laboratory at Thorncliffe, near Sheffield.

Into a test tube of beef extract, thick with typhoid germs, was dropped a germicide made by the firm. Then Mr. Reilly drank a mouthful of the mixture.

LUCKLESS FLIER DOWN AGAIN

Bulawayo, To-day.

Flight-Lieutenant David Llewellyn, who took off early yesterday morning on a second bid to break the Cape-London flight record, after a mishap on Saturday, again came to grief.

This time he was forced to land near Serowe due to petrol tank trouble.

The aeroplane in descending struck a huge ant-heap and was badly damaged.

Llewellyn was wedged in his seat and had to be extricated by natives. He is not seriously injured, however, and is expected to arrive at Bulawayo by train in the course of to-day.—Reuter.

GERMAN RACING MOTORISTS

Seek New Triumphs
In New York

Berlin, To-day.

German motor-racing drivers, who have recently established a supremacy on the Continent, are looking further afield for fresh worlds to conquer.

Several of the ace speedsters, including Hans Stuck and Bernard Rosemeyer, will compete in the Vanderbilt Cup race at Roosevelt Field, near New York, on July 4.

It will be the first time that the new Mercedes and Auto Union racers, which have won practically every major prize in Europe, will be seen on an American track.

Hans Stuck, who is now in Rio de Janeiro for several big Brazilian speed contests, will leave directly for New York, and Rosemeyer will sail for the United States following the Eifel race in Europe.—Trans-Ocean.

M.G.M. SIGNS UP NOTED SKATER

Vienna, To-day.

The world and Olympic champion figure skater, Karl Schaeffer, declared on returning here from his American tour yesterday, that he has signed a contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Meyer for a salary of $40,000 for one film.

He continued that following completion of his scheduled appearances in the United States, in fulfilment of his contract, he intends to return to Europe with his ice skating revue, which includes twenty chorus girls on skates.—Trans-Ocean.

THE WORLD GOES BY

I forget who it was who said this, but he was a wise man:
"We can forgive those who bore us, but we can never forgive those whom we bore."

That is very true.

In the same way we find it hard to forgive people who tell us that we have no sense of humour.

We just can't believe it.

Each of us thinks secretly that he has got a great sense of humour, and that he is a great wag and a keen wit.

Now, if anybody told me that I was completely devoid of humour, I should not be annoyed, because I just couldn't believe him.

Like all of us, I nurse the ridiculous idea that I have one of the keenest senses of humour to be found upon the face of this earth.

Since we all think the same, we're a pretty merry crew.

On the other hand, we are only too eager and willing to believe that those around us have none of this valuable sensitivity to fun.

Monkey House

Mr. and Mrs. Mendel Picket and their son Charlie went to see the monkeys at the New York Zoo.

Towards closing time, it was the custom to release Janet, a young gorilla, and Ellen, a baby chimpanzee.

These two animals had a perfect record of docility and behaved with great decorum amongst the crowd of goggling humans.

But somehow they didn't take to the Picket family.

Mrs. Picket was the first to get the rap.

Ellen, the chimp, grabbed her and slung her through the air. Mr. Picket was quietly knocked out, and young Charles was thrown seventeen feet by Janet, the gorilla.

Charlie broke his toe, and it so happened that it was an extra toe—the sixth on his left foot.

LEAGUE'S VICTORY SOLUTION OF SANDJAK TROUBLE

Geneva, To-day.

The resolution covering the basic principles upon which the autonomous Government of the Sandjak of Alexandretta is to be formed, was passed on Saturday morning by the League Council.

The French Foreign Minister, M. Yvon Delbos, and the Turkish Foreign Minister, Tewfik Rushdi Aras, both expressed gratification over the outcome of the deliberations, declaring it signified the final solution of the Sandjak question.

Following the balloting, both statesmen assumed in the name of their respective countries the obligations in the resolution.

The Soviet delegate, M. Maxim Litvinoff, praised the final settlement as a League of Nations victory.

The League Council was also engaged in formulating a draft resolution concerning the question of the Valencia Government's protest to the difficulties encountered through the objection of the Valencia delegate, Senor del Vayo, with the support of M. Litvinoff. —Trans-Ocean.

ARTILLERY TO BE LENT TO EGYPT

To Stay Interference With Rearmament

Cairo, To-day.

The British War Office will "lend" Egypt field artillery in order that development of the Egyptian Army may proceed without over-burdening the British rearmament industries.

This was revealed by the Egyptian War Minister, Ali Sidky Pasha, in an interview with newspapermen here yesterday.

The Minister also announced that negotiations between Cairo and London regarding armaments deliveries had been satisfactorily concluded, and that the Egyptian Army's munitions supplies will be provided exclusively by British firms.

The "loan" of artillery from the British reserves was decided upon, however, because delivery of the entire order placed by Egypt within the stipulated period would interfere too greatly with the British rearmament programme. —Trans-Ocean.

Competitors in a horse rally to be held from July 10 to July 15 will ride 100 miles to Eastbourne, Sussex, the meeting point, in three stages.

More than 1,000 railwaymen attended a London and North Eastern railwaymen's Coronation Year service in York Minster.

The 40-hour week is to be suspended in Italy, operatives complaining that it does not afford them a living wage.

It had to be amputated, Charlie valued that toe.

He said:

"It's not everybody that has six toes on his left foot—and gee! was I attached to that toe!"

He seems to have been very attached to that toe, because his father claimed $15,000 damages from the Zoo for the whole affair.

Amelia Earhart Ready For World Trip

FLYING THIS TIME WEST TO EAST

Miami, To-day.

Miss Amelia Earhart (Mrs. Putnam), the world famous American aviatrix, plans to take off early this week on a second attempt to fly round the world. She intends to fly from the West to the East, round the Equator, a total distance of about 28,000 miles.

Miss Earhart expects to make a start as soon as the weather permits, and explained that the change of direction from her original flight was due to the advance of summer and consequent changes in the weather conditions, especially in Africa.

Her first hop will be from Miami to San Juan in Porto-Rico, a distance of 1,033 miles.

The Atlantic ocean will be crossed from Port Natal to Dakar, and from there she hopes to fly across the Sahara Desert to Aden.

Miss Earhart will again be accompanied by Captain Fred Noonan. Her Lockheed monoplane, the "Flying Laboratory," has been rebuilt since her Honolulu crash and will carry no cargo except a few spare parts and 8,000 stamp covers for philatelists.—Reuter.

PASTORS NOT TOO OLD AT 45

Where Young Men Fail

A protest against the "foolish preference" for young men, which was making ministers too old after the middle forties, was made by the Rev. Ernest J. Price, presiding at the Spring Assembly of the Congregational Union of England and Wales, in the City Temple, London.

"In the ministry, above all vocations," he said, "age ought to be an asset rather than a handicap; and a rich maturity of spiritual experience ought to count for more than youthful assurance and agility."

"It is high time we abandoned the stupid notion that only young men, fresh from college — or perhaps with two or three years' experience in the sowing of ministerial wild oats — can appeal to youth."

"Some of the finest work that is being done among young people in our churches is being done by men over 50, and it is certainly true that some of our bright young ministers have failed disastrously precisely at this point."

Among the things that struck him most about many of the candidates who presented themselves to their college were their crude notions about religion and their lamentable ignorance of the Bible. The average marks in Scripture at the entrance examinations were usually lower than in any other subject.

Two cases of diphtheria and one of dysentery were reported to the Health Department from Kowloon during the week-end.

Rehearsal Of Duke Of Windsor's Wedding

Paris, To-day.

The rehearsal of the Duke of Windsor's wedding, scheduled to take place on Thursday, was held in the Music Room of Cande Castle, near Tours last Saturday.

The Duke and his bride-to-be, Miss Wally Warfield, assisted by Mayor Mercier, rehearsed all the necessary formalities in the French language. The only difference from the actual ceremony was that the Mayor did not wear his robes of office, the scarlet sash which will adorn him on the wedding day.—Trans-Ocean.

WOMAN KILLED BY TRAM

Driver Held To Have Been Negligent

A verdict of accidental death with a rider that the driver of the tram car was guilty of negligence, was returned at the Coroner's inquest at the Central Magistracy into the death of Sin Yung, an amah, aged 44, who was knocked down on May 2 near Jubilee Street.

Mr. K. Keen was the coroner and he was assisted by the following jurors, Messrs. I. M. Razack, (foreman) Wu Shui-chi and Tam Pun-kee.

Dr. G. H. Thomas said deceased was admitted to the G.C.H. at 5.35 p.m. on May 2 and died the next morning. When brought to hospital, the patient was conscious but completely paralysed from the neck downwards. The post mortem showed a seven inch wound on the left side of the head but the skull was not fractured. The second bone of the neck was dislocated, pressing on the spinal cord. He attributed the cause of death to the dislocated neck and the pressure on the spinal cord which caused paralysis of the breathing organs and heart failure.

Ng Kwok-hing, driver of tram car No. 51, said he was travelling from east to west. When near Jubilee Street, he saw deceased standing in between the tram tracks. A tram was travelling in the opposite direction. The woman stood stationary in the tracks while the other car passed. He continued his way and she started to move back on his track. He applied his brakes but she was hit by the handle bar of the rear side of the car.

Questioned by Inspector Saunders, witness admitted the other tram had passed before he reached deceased and that when he saw her standing he switched off the current and proceeded slowly. When he saw her step back he applied the electric brake but the tram continued some distance. She had looked in the direction of the other tram but not in his, and he had sounded his bell.

The Inspector suggested that if witness had been proceeding more slowly he could have stopped at once.

The B. I. Steam Ship Talma will leave for Singapore Port Swettenham, Penang, Rangoon & Calcutta on Saturday at 10.30 a.m.

BRIDGE NOTES

By ELY CULBERTSON

A Series Of Safety Plays

In a recent Rubber Bridge game, I watched a well-known expert play a hand at a contract of six-odd. With the actual division of cards that existed, I doubt if a four-year-old child could have gone down on the hand. Nevertheless, this expert quite correctly made two distinct safety plays to increase his chances of fulfilling the contract against all possible divisions. Each play was designed possibly to give up one conceivable unnecessary trick. It so happened that none of these safety plays lost the trick which the declarer was willing to sacrifice, and as a result, seven-odd was made. The declarer thus received some slight additional reward for his wisdom in adopting the safest line of play possible.

The bidding: (Figures after bids refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

South	West	North	East
1C	1D	Dbl.	Pass
2C	Pass	3S	Pass
4S (1)	Pass	5NT (2)	Pass
6C (3)	Pass	Pass (4)	Pass

1—The only bid available to South at this point. South has already rebid his clubs and does not wish to deny spades, despite the fact that he has not quite adequate trump support.

2—North naturally wants to reach at least a Small Slam, and possibly a Grand Slam; hence the conventional five-notrump bid, showing three Aces and a King of a bid suit.

3—South naturally is not interested in a Grand Slam. He has already supported spades, and therefore quite correctly decides to rebid his clubs.

4—A very fine pass by North, who realises that South's six-club bid shows a desire to play the hand at clubs rather than a blind desire to sign off in the lowest possible suit.

Correct usage of the Four-Five Notrump Convention demands that in responding to a five-notrump bid (as opposed to a four-notrump bid) the response should be made in the suit in which the player thinks the hand should be played.

Admittedly, the way the cards lie six or seven spades can also be made, but undoubtedly the best contract is six clubs.

In the play West opened a low diamond, which declarer won with the ace in dummy, discarding a spade from his own hand. With the Queen of clubs the only missing high trump, South decided that he would try to play the hand for a cross-ruff by first cashing his top tricks in spades, hearts and diamonds and then simply trumping back and forth. Accordingly, after winning the first trick with the diamond ace, he laid down the ace of spades, and West dropped an honour. South now decided to employ Safety Play No. 1. He led a low diamond from dummy, and trumped in his own hand, so that the second round of spades could be led through the possible void in the West hand. Thus if West ruffed in on the second spade, the King would still remain in dummy for a possible discard. Incidentally, on the diamond lead East had to drop his second high honour, setting up Dummy's Jack.

The safety play, of course, turned out not to be necessary as West followed on the second round of spades and trick 4 was won in dummy with the king of that suit. The declarer now had plenty of tricks set up for discards of his possible losing heart tricks, and since no previous trick had been lost, one trump trick could be lost and the contract still be fulfilled.

South therefore made his second safety play on the hand. He led the ten of trumps from dummy, and took a first round finesse. Although close analysis reveals that this play is not absolutely essential, it avoids future complications in case there should be four trumps in hand. South is willing to give up one club trick, and he wishes to do this while he still holds complete control of the hand with a high trump still remaining in dummy. Obviously, the lead of the ten of clubs held the trick, and the declarer was able to pick up East's queen and thus make seven-odd.

AT THE QUEEN'S—"Internes Can't Take Money", a story of a young mother (Barbara Stanwyck), whose child was taken away from her while she served a prison sentence, and who was forced to put love for her child ahead of honour. Joel McCrea has the role of an interne.

AT THE MAJESTIC—"Catherine The Great", with Elizabeth Bergner and Douglas Fairbanks Jr. A great actress in her greatest role in one of the finest productions of United Artists.

AT THE ALHAMBRA—"Top Of The Town", a musical comedy starring Doris Nolan, George Murphy, and Misha Auer who has the role of a slightly insane actor who is impressed that a glamorous night club is the proper place for the serious oration of Hamlet's "Soliloquy".

AT THE CENTRAL—"Strike Me Pink", with Eddie Cantor, a comedy loaded with youth, laughter and beauty.

AT THE STAR—"Winterset", with Burgess Meredith, Eduardo Ciannelli and John Carradine. The play for which the New York Dramatic Critics Circle awarded the director a plaque as the best work of the year. A stirring romance rising out of the grim efforts of a young man to vindicate the name of his father.

AT THE KING'S—"Cain And Mabel", starring Marion Davies, as a beautiful waitress who rises to stardom on the musical-comedy stage, and Clark Gable, as a daring youth who battles his way to fame in the boxing ring.

AT THE ORIENTAL—"Sons Of Guns", with Joe E. Brown, Joan Blondell, Beverly Roberts and Eric Blore. The comedian's first film musical romance depicting his pranks in the Army.

LEGAL DISPUTE BEFORE FULL COURT

APPEAL AGAINST C.J.'S ORDER

Whether the Chief Justice was right in not taking into consideration the conduct of the defendants when he granted an order to set aside the judgment given against them twelve months previously, in an action in which plaintiff, having no case at all at the time when the writ was issued, obtained judgment in chambers, and which the defendants failed to contest, although at liberty to do so, was the subject of a legal battle between Mr. Leo D'Almada, junior, and Mr. H. G. Sheldon at the Supreme Court this morning before Mr. Justice R. E. Lindsell and Mr. Justice J. A. Fraser, sitting in Full Court.

Mr. D'Almada, on behalf of the appellant, Mrs. Tso Yuk-Tong, urged that the order to set aside the judgment, should not have been granted, on the grounds stated and that the Chief Justice also went wrong in that he made his decision without hearing the evidence.

Mr. Sheldon, appeared on behalf of the respondents the Luk Hoi Tung Company, Limited.

The case arose out of an action, in which the appellant sued the defendants for $8,678.83 on a debenture deed, which she claimed was payable on demand.

The defendants were presented with letters of demand on various dates in February 1936. The writ was issued in March and judgment was given on defendants failing to appear. Three months later, defendants were again notified of money due on the judgment debt, and were warned in October, 1936, that wider proceedings would be taken if they failed to pay.

The defendants ignored all letters and warnings and on February 9, 1937, filed a petition for winding up the firm. Nine days later they applied for the judgment to be set aside, on the ground that, at the time the writ was issued, plaintiff had no claim to the money. In fact the debenture deed was not payable on demand. The Chief Justice granted the application.

A written judgment will be given later.

Six railway officials regarded as responsible for an accident in which six people were killed on a Moscow suburban line are to be placed on trial.

WE DO NOT WANT TO SEE ANY MORE ENCYCLICALS FRICK DENIES NAZI HOSTILITY TO ORGANISED RELIGION

Weser-Ems, To-day.

Dr. Wilhelm Frick, German Minister of Interior, at the Nationalist Socialist Party Regional Congress here said, "We are anything but hostile to organised religion as we have proved again and again in the years since we came into power. In 1933 the Fuehrer took the greatest trouble to create a unified Protestant Church.

THE CHURCH PEOPLE WOULD NOT ACCEPT THE PLAN, BUT ON THE CONTRARY SAY THAT WE ARE HOSTILE TO THE CHURCH. IT IS A FACT THAT HUNDREDS OF MILLIONS OF MARKS ARE SPENT BY THE STATE FOR THE CHURCH AND NOBODY PROPOSES TO CEASE DOING SO.

"But we have now had enough pastoral letters and we do not want to see any more pastoral letters or encyclicals.

"Catholic dignitaries are under an obligation to see to it that decency prevails in their ranks. What has been revealed in the last few weeks about the state of affairs among the Catholic clergy and in Catholic monasteries is a monstrous disgrace."—Trans-Ocean.

CHURCH RECEPTION

Berlin, To-day.

The speech delivered by Dr. Goebbels made a profound impression upon clerical quarters, mainly because they were not prepared for the utter frankness.

Dr. Goebbels warned that, "under certain circumstances, even very high ecclesiastical personalities would have to appear in court to answer certain questions on oath."

Non-ecclesiastical circles believe that this may mean that the State is in possession of proof that high church dignitaries have been aware of delinquencies among the clergy.

At all events, it is thought that the Catholic church will probably reply to the Minister's speech perhaps in the form of a declaration depicting from the Catholic standpoint why the development of relations between the Vatican and the State in the last few years has approached a state similar to the "Kulturkampf." (The struggle of the German Government against the Roman Pope influencing interior German affairs).—Trans-Ocean.

TEXT OF SPEECH NOT YET RECEIVED

Berlin, To-day.

Vatican circles take a very reserved attitude towards the broadcast speech by the Propaganda Minister, Dr. Goebbels, dealing with the trials of priests and members of religious orders, the "Berliner Tageblatt" learns from Rome.

This attitude is believed to be due to the fact that at present only short excerpts of the speech are available in Rome.

If careful study of the full text should reveal that the speech offered any case for negotiations on the differences at issue between Germany and the Vatican, then the Vatican would, as always, be prepared to take advantage thereof.

At the same time, it is declared in Vatican circles that the Vatican could not reprimand Cardinal Mundelein, of Chicago, since his speech constituted no breach of his duties. Moreover, he had spoken rather as an American citizen than as a Church dignitary.—Trans-Ocean.

AUSTRIAN ACTION

Vienna, To-day.

German newspapers, containing the text of the speech by Dr. Goebbels, replying to Cardinal Mundelein, of Chicago, have been banned from sale throughout Austria.

The German Ambassador, Herr von Papen, is understood to have protested against the Austrian Government's measures.—Trans-Ocean.

COST OF NERVES TO INDUSTRY

10,000,000 Weeks A Year

Ten million weeks a year are lost to industry from nervous illness.

This statement was made by Mr. R. S. Hudson, Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Health, at the annual luncheon of the Tavistock Clinic, the Institute of Medical Psychology.

Dr. J. R. Rees, medical director of the institute, said that the clinic, in which 24,000 hours of medical time are given each year, is trying to unravel the knots of nervous troubles.

"The only kind of radical treatment," he added, "is to try to do something comparable to surgery, to get at the root of the trouble and clean it up."

A London magistrate, said Dr. Rees, had told him that he had never had a single patient on pro-

SWATOW INCIDENT LATEST

EFFORTS TOWARDS SETTLEMENT

Canton, To-day.

Mr. Chang Yuan-nam and General Wu Men-hsin who have been investigating the Swatow incident, returned to Canton on Saturday.

It is stated that Mr. Philip K. C. Tyau, Commissioner of Foreign Affairs for the two Kwangs, has instructed his secretary, Mr. S. F. Ling, to remain in Swatow so as to assist the Swatow Mayor, Mr. Huang Ping-fan, to settle the dispute with the Japanese Consul there.

Mr. Tyau is at the same time calling on Japanese Consul-general at Shameen, Mr. Nakamura, this morning to request the latter to take steps for withdrawal of the Japanese warships, pending the settlement of the case.

A full report of the investigation was sent to the Chinese Foreign Office yesterday, and it is reported that Dr. Wang Chung-hui, the Foreign Minister may send an official to Swatow to help in the negotiations.

General Yu Han-mau, Kwangtung military chief, issued a decree yesterday, that no officers of the 4th Route Army, are to be granted leave of absence before the settlement of the Swatow dispute and the withdrawal of the Japanese warships.—Our Own Correspondent.

Decree For Actress

The Hon. Mrs. David Tennant—Hermione Baddeley, the actress—of Marlborough Gate Cottage, Elm-mews, Lancaster-gate, was granted a decree nisi, with costs, by Mr. Justice Bucknill in the Divorce Court because of the adultery of her husband. The suit was not defended.

The couple were married in April, 1928.

Mrs. Tennant's case was that her married life was unhappy, and that on more than one occasion her husband made an admission regarding another woman.

After a quarrel more than a year ago, husband and wife separated. Last May he stayed at a London hotel with Phyllis Vernon.

bation back before him in court after psycho-therapeutic treatment at the clinic. About 55 per cent. were permanently relieved.

Lord Hollenden, the hon. treasurer, emphasised the need for financial support. The clinic, he said, had a mortgage of $44,650 and a bank overdraft of $24,850. Against these amounts was the value of the Store-street site, for which a handsome offer was recently received and refused. The loss on the year's work was $2,462.

The clinic was planning to appeal to industry to provide it with funds for rebuilding and maintenance in return for a service available for industrial employees.

23 KILLED: 83 INJURED DEUTSCHLAND BOMBING

GRAVE VIEW TAKEN OF IBIZA INCIDENT

FULL MEETING OF GERMAN CABINET

GRAVE INTERNATIONAL COMPLICATIONS ARE FEARED AS THE MENACING OUTCOME OF THE BOMBING OF A GERMAN WARSHIP BY SPANISH GOVERNMENT AEROPLANES.

IT IS NOW REVEALED THAT THE WARSHIP ATTACKED WAS THE POCKET-BATTLESHIP, "DEUTSCHLAND" NOT THE "VON SCHEER" AND THAT

23 WERE KILLED,
19 SERIOUSLY INJURED, AND
64 SLIGHTLY INJURED.

Germany is inflamed by the affair and a meeting of the Hitler Cabinet has already resulted in certain specific orders to German naval craft in Spanish waters, though the nature of those orders has not been revealed.

It is understood that the Government has communicated with the non-intervention committee, informing them that what measures the German Government proposes to take.

As reported earlier, the warship was attacked when lying at anchor near the pier at Ibiza, and the Spanish authorities allege that the Deutschland first opened fire on the planes which were proceeding to an air raid on Palma.

AN OFFICIAL COMMUNIQUE ISSUED IN BERLIN (SAYS REUTER) ANNOUNCES THAT ALL THOSE KILLED AND INJURED IN THE DEUTSCHLAND WERE IN THE CREW'S UNPROTECTED QUARTERS.

THE SHIP WAS STRUCK BY TWO BOMBS AND NOT BY FOUR AS WAS AT FIRST BELIEVED.

THE FIRST BOMB CAUSED NEARLY ALL THE CASUALTIES WHEN IT CRASHED INTO THE CREW'S QUARTERS. THE SECOND BOMB SLIGHTLY DAMAGED THE SIDE OF THE DECK OF THE VESSEL.

It is denied that the Deutschland opened fire, the official report stating that the ship "did not fire a shot."

The Navy Office states that the warship completely retained its fighting ability and proceeded to Gibraltar to disembark the injured.

She arrived in the British naval base with her flag flying at half-mast in honour of the victims. As she steamed into the Admiralty harbour, all British and foreign warships in the port half-masted their flags.

Official quarters in Berlin stress the seriousness of the situation, but it is opined that for the present no rash step will be taken.

Nevertheless, the following official statement has been issued:

"After the Red Valencia Government had been warned by the Non-Intervention Committee and the German Government against making further attacks upon ships engaged in the service of the international control, this new criminal assault upon a German ship compels us to take measures which will be communicated immediately to the Non-Intervention Committee."

The official communique says that after the bomb attack upon an Italian ship in the harbour of Majorca, German vessels were forbidden to call at this port. It was for this reason that the Deutschland was lying in the Ibiza roadstead.

Reuter adds that a full meeting of the Cabinet, presided over by Herr Hitler, is now considering what action is to be taken in consequences of the Ibiza bombing incident.

CASUALTY LIST

Berlin, Later.

No officers in the ship were hurt. The high casualty list was due to the bombs crashing into the crew's quarters forward.

All the injured men have been rushed into hospital at Gibraltar and arrangements are being made for a funeral service for the dead at Gibraltar to-day.

CABINET MEETING

Berlin, Later.

It is understood in political quarters that all present at the meeting of the Cabinet expressed the great-

—Submarine Torpedoes— Barcelona Ships Unknown Nationality

Valencia, To-day.

A submarine of unknown nationality appeared outside Barcelona harbour and launched a number of torpedoes against shipping in the harbour.

The steamer, City of Barcelona, was sunk but the loss of life is not known. A Government merchantman, the Zarroza, was also hit.

A Government seaplane dropped a number of bombs on the submarine.—Reuter.

est indignation over the incident.

General Goering was at Weimar and he rushed to Berlin for the Ministerial conference.

Herr Hitler was at Munich when the news of the bombing was received. He immediately conferred with Baron von Neurath, the Foreign Minister, who was in Munich, and with Admiral Raeder, who flew to Munich from Berlin.

After a conference there, they all flew to Berlin for the meeting of the full Cabinet.

It is anticipated that the measures which the German Government intends to take will be announced in the course of to-day.

BLACK BORDER NEWS

The German Navy has been ordered to fly all flags at half-mast while the newspapers publish the news of the bombing on their front pages with black borders and state that the Spanish assertion that the warship fired has been proved untrue by eye-witnesses. They point to the fact that the casualties occurred among the crew who were in unprotected quarters, not manning guns.—Reuter.

MUNICH DISCUSSION

Berlin, To-day.

The Fuehrer was taking part in the ceremony of inaugurating an exhibition hall in Munich when news of the bombing of the Deutschland was received.

Immediately after the ceremony, which was hurried through, Herr Hitler had an exhaustive discussion with Baron von Neurath and they were joined later at 2.45 p.m., by the commander-in-chief of the German Navy, Admiral Raeder, who arrived by special plane.

At four o'clock they left together in the same plane for Berlin.

Before the Cabinet meeting, there was a further long discussion at the Chancellery, in which Field-Marshal von Blomberg took part.—Trans-Ocean.

Little Dinners For Two People

Prize Menus And A Selection Of Best Dishes

Warm weather and sports and Jeannette MacDonald, singing screen star, selects a suit as her choice. Her black woollen skirt is topped with dusty rose jacket, featuring interesting patch pocket. The blouse is of dusty rose, green and black figured print.

LAMB PINWHEEL

Ask your butcher to bone a lamb breast and spread it with bulk pork sausage. Other ground meat such as ground round steak may be used, but the flavour and spiciness of sausage is most desirable in this combination. Roll and tie or skewer the meat into shape.

Season with salt and pepper and brown quickly in hot fat in a skillet. Add enough hot water to cover the bottom of the skillet, cover tightly and cook slowly until lamb is tender. The meat should cook tender in 1½ to 2 hours. As the water cooks away, add more to insure good gravy when the meat is tender. If desired, the lamb may be baked in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, about the same length of time.

When the lamb roll is sliced the darker colour of the sausage makes the circles in the slices and produces

There is no more difficult problem in practical housewifery than catering for two people who require a little dinner that is attractive, well-balanced, and not too costly.

Monotony has to be avoided, "left-overs" are not desirable, so food that can be bought in small quantities is preferable. Sometimes the plan of buying a small joint and having it cut up in different ways to provide a variety of dishes, such as a roast, pudding, or pie, a mince and a stew, is followed with satisfactory results. This means, however, at best a succession of beef, mutton, or veal dishes, and they are apt to pall.

Here are some ideas for you:—
Stewed Pigeon and Olives.
Mashed or New Potatoes, Peas.
Orange Pudding
with Rum Butter

STEWED PIGEON.—Divide pigeon into quarters. Fry in butter till pale brown. Put into ¾ pint of good stock, cover and cook gently for 40 minutes.

Stew the olives. Serve pigeon with olives arranged round the dish.

ORANGE PUDDING.—1 cupful breadcrumbs, ¼ cupful sugar, pinch salt, 2 tablespoonfuls melted butter, 1 egg, ½ orange.

Mix well and moisten with juice of ½ orange and 1 beaten egg. Pour into 2 small moulds and steam for 40 minutes. Serve with rum butter.

A Second Menu

Grilled Mince-Patties.

Mushrooms and Tomatoes

Potatoes in Jackets.

Caramel Rhubarb Puddings.

Take ½ lb best steak, finely minced (the butcher will do it for you, if necessary), 2 tablespoonfuls breadcrumbs, ½ teaspoonful salt, dash of pepper. Mix well and form into two flat cakes. Brush with melted butter. Grill five minutes each side.

Serve with ¼ lb mushrooms and ¼ lb tomatoes, nicely seasoned and cooked in butter, and potatoes scrubbed and baked in oven in their jackets.

Cream 1 oz butter and 1 oz moist brown sugar together. Spread equally inside two fireproof moulds. This makes the caramel sauce for the puddings.

Sift ¼ lb self-raising flour, rub in 2 oz butter, 1 oz sugar. Mix with a beaten egg. Roll out and line each mould. Fill with chopped rhubarb and sugar. Put on lid of paste.

Set in shallow pan of water and bake about 40 minutes. Serve with cream.

Stuffed Fillets Of Soles

Ingredients: 1 lemon sole (1 to 1½ lb), ½ oz butter, ½ oz flour, 3 tablespoonfuls milk, ¼ pint picked the pinwheel effect.

With this meat course the following foods would combine to perfection:

Cabbage Salad With Sour Cream

Shred the cabbage to hair-like fineness. The whipped sour cream (which must be ordered a day ahead) can be added to either boiled salad dressing or the oil mayonnaise, equal portions of dressing and cream. A dash of paprika strewn across the top of the salad gives a festive colour.

shrimps, salt, pepper and ground mace, few drops of lemon juice.

Chop shrimps finely. Melt butter in a pan, add flour, then milk, and stir till boiling. Cook well, then add shrimps and seasonings.

Skin and filled fish, sprinkle with salt and lemon juice, then spread the shrimp mixture on the skinned side of each filled. Roll up from the tail end and fasten with string. Stand rolls in a buttered tin, cover with greased paper and bake in moderate oven 15 to 20 minutes. Dish up, cut off strings, cover with white fish sauce and garnish with powdered lobster coral and sprigs of parsley.

One-quarter lb of chopped lobster or crayfish may be substituted for shrimps.

Dry Curry

Cut plenty of onions into thin slices, fry in butter (with salt) or bacon fat (without salt) till brown. Take them out and put into the hot liquid the curry powder, six or seven stoned and chopped raisins and a very little desiccated cocoanut. Bring these ingredients to the boil, stirring all the time.

Add the meat, which has been cut into pieces an inch square and lightly fried, also the onions. Let all simmer for 1½ hour. Stir continuously and never allow it to boil after the meat is added or it will become hard. This curry should be dark brown, and is served on a separate dish from the rice.

Baked Bananas And Marmalade

Grease a baking dish with a little butter. Slice four bananas lengthwise, and lay at bottom of dish. Cover with two tablespoonfuls marmalade, and one tablespoonful Demerara sugar. Pour in a little sherry, or rum, and add a small piece of butter. Bake in medium heat for about 20 minutes. Serve hot.

Fish With Sweet Corn

Steam 1 lb white fish. Flake it into a piedish and mix with it a small tin of sweet corn. Cover with half a pint of white sauce, dust with breadcrumbs, sprinkle well with grated cheese and bake for 15 minutes.

French Fruit Pancakes

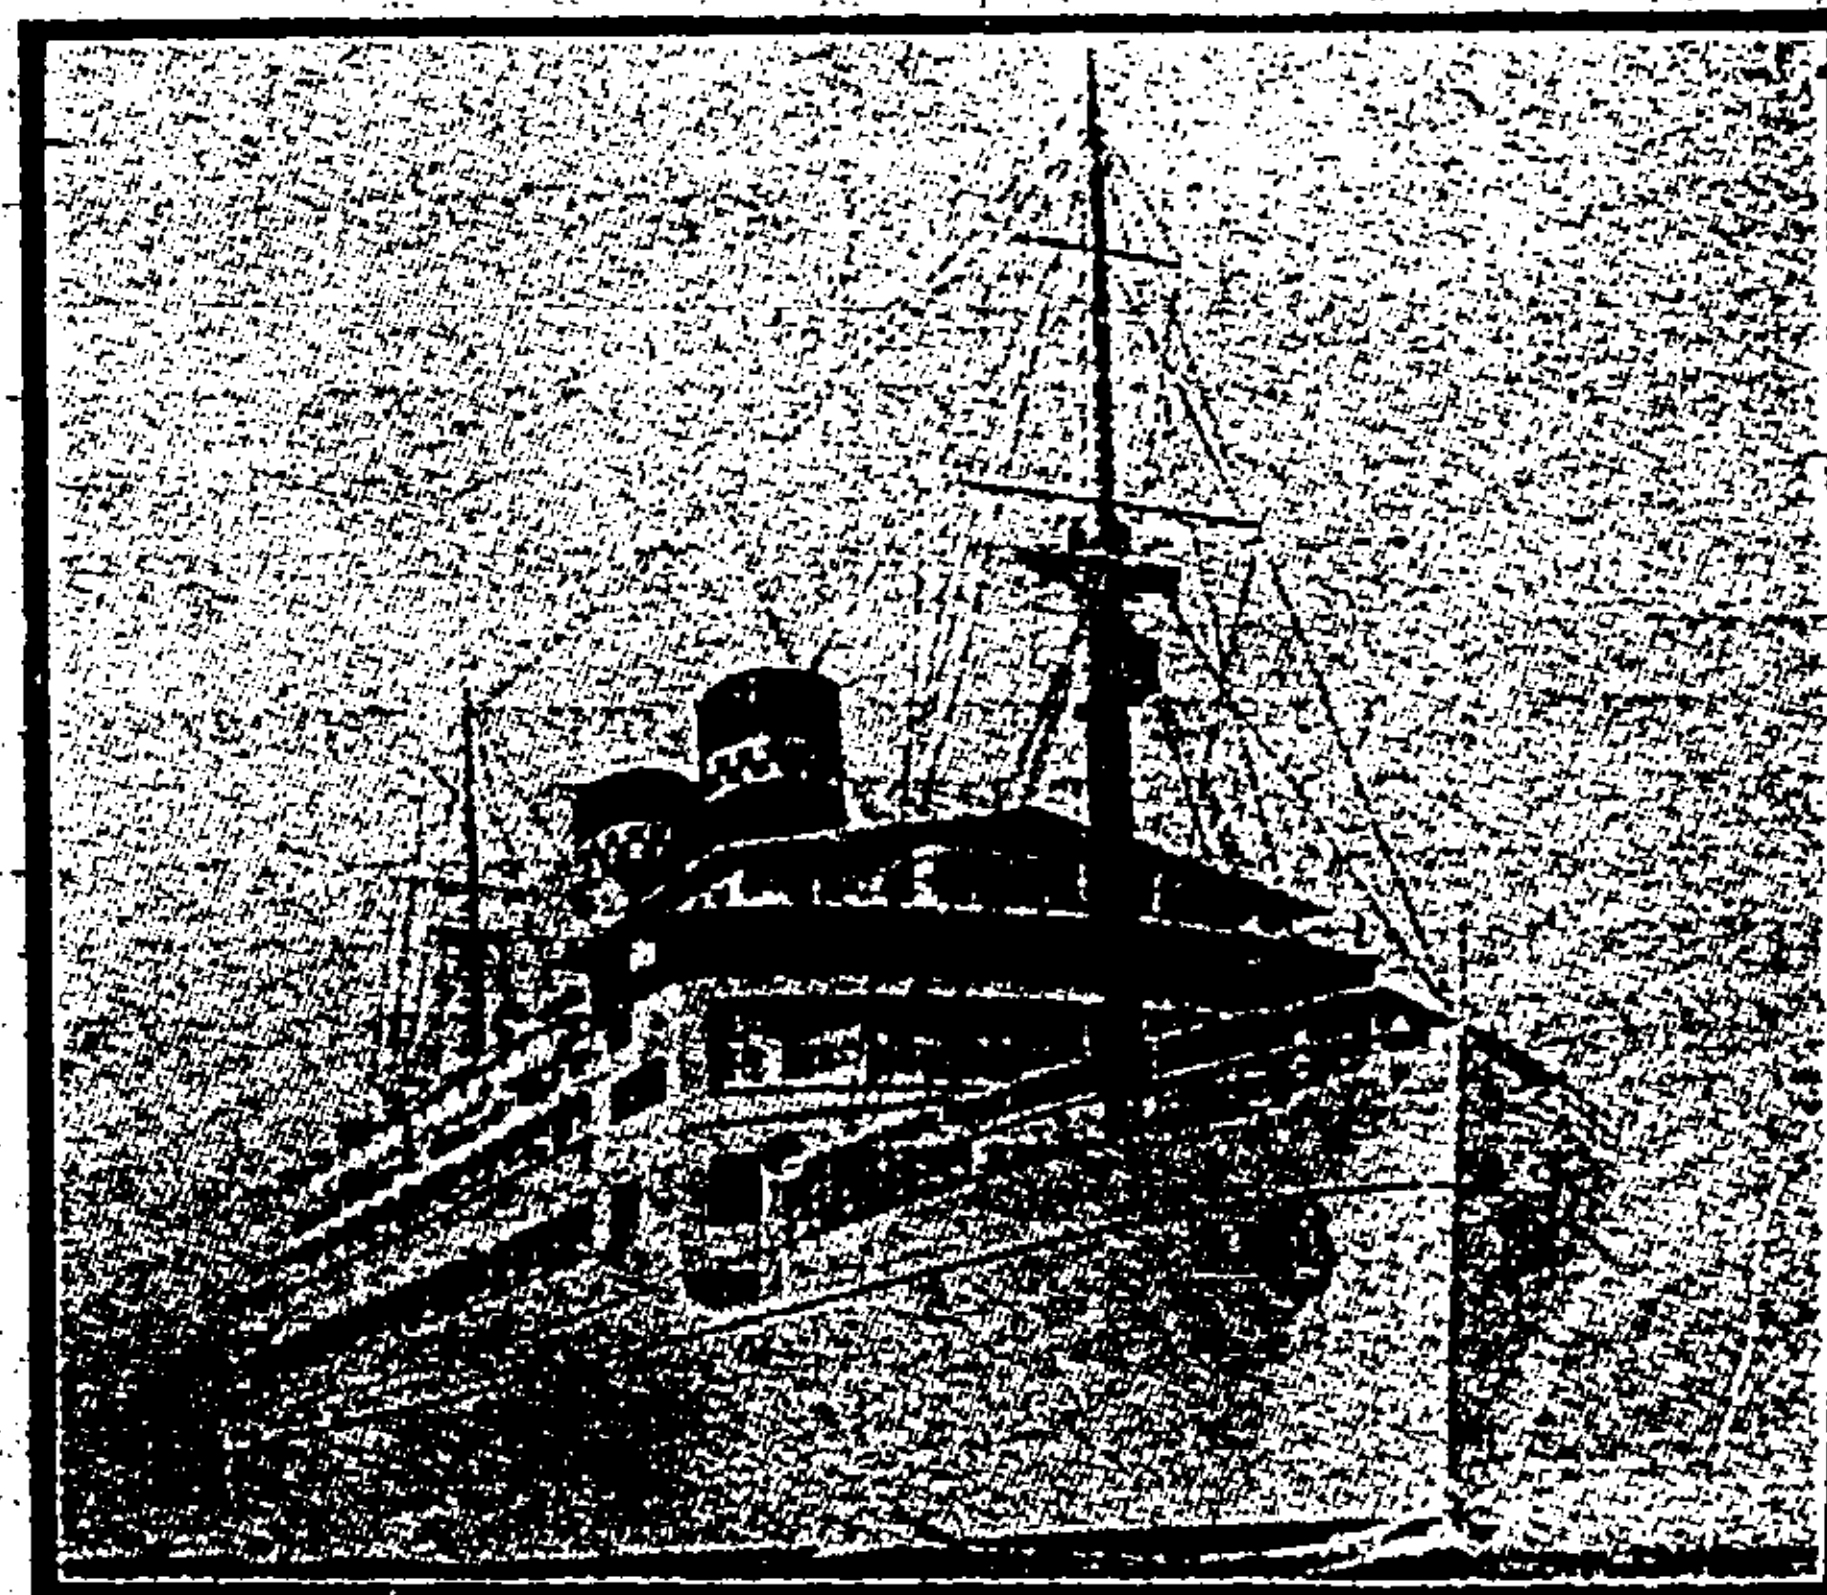

One oz butter, 1 oz sugar, 1 egg, 1 oz flour, 1 gill milk, pinch salt, 2 tablespoonfuls of any kind of cold fruit.

Cream the butter with wooden spoon, beat egg till frothy and stir in. Add sugar and salt. Mix well. Add half the flour and half the milk, then the remainder, beating well.

Turn mixture into two large old saucers and bake in moderate oven for 15 minutes or till a golden brown.

When cooked turn out, place fruit on wrong side and turn over like an omelette. Serve hot.

SIEGE ON BOARD LINER

Radio Operators' New Version Of Sit-Down Strike

Barricaded Men Hold Out Nine Hours

Passengers' Fares Refunded

New York, To-day.

A "sitdown" strike of quite a new character forced the cancellation of the sailing of a big American liner which was about to sail from New York on a pleasure cruise.

Three men were responsible for holding up the ship.

They were the members of the staff of the wireless room. They barricaded themselves in the radio room and successfully resisted a siege until cancellation of the ship's sailing became inevitable.

It was revealed by the Company that the three men had been discharged in consequence of another dispute, but they returned to the liner and bolted themselves in the radio room.

The deck officers and members of the crew laid siege to the stronghold for over nine hours before abandoning the effort, and then it was decided to return fares to all passengers and cancel the sailing.

There were over 300 passengers aboard all booked for a week-end cruise to Havana.—Reuter.

CIDER MAKING CONTEST

Somerset Leads Again

In the midst of apple orchards, just coming into bloom, the annual cider tasting event was held at the Long Ashton research institute.

The prizes were awarded to the apple farmers of Hereford, Somerset, Monmouth, Worcestershire, Gloucester and Devon, who, in various grades and with many varieties of trees, produced last year the fruit which fermented into England's apple wine at its very best.

And the men of Somerset again carried off most of the principal prizes. The biggest success was achieved by Mr. W. Porter, of East Ladbroke, with apples of the Taylor strain. He secured the prizes for sweet varieties and a special award for the condition of his fruit.

Mr. Chumley, one of the Bristol University experts who work at the research station, said that although the apple crop was good last year, the cider made from it is not of unusual quality. The lack of sunshine lowered the sugar content of the fruit, and the beverage has not the full aroma which a sunny summer alone can bring.

The Earl of Feversham, Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Agriculture, who distributed the prizes, said the home cider industry meant $25,000 a year to the farmers and could be further expanded.

Onions, cucumbers, asparagus and a number of pot plants can now be freely imported into France from the United Kingdom according to a decree of the "Journal Officiel."

MOTOR RACES IN GERMANY

Track Speed Of 261
Kilometres P.H.

Berlin, To-day.

After an interval of exactly two years, international motor-cycle and motor racing was resumed yesterday at Avus, which since completion of improvements, claims to have the fastest track in the world.

Over 380,000 spectators, including Dr. Goebbels attended the meeting in glorious summer weather.

In the final race, in the heavy car class, Caracciola and von Brauschitsch won the preliminary heats driving Mercedes Benz. In the final, however, luck turned and Brauschitsch broke down on the first lap and Caracciola on the fourth. The winner was the Tripolis champion, Hermann Lang, driving a Mercedes Benz, with Ernst von Delius in an Auto Union second.

The average speed of the winner was 261.7 kilometres an hour.—Trans-Ocean.

GERMANY ANNOYED BY LEAGUE DECISION

REFUSAL TO HEAR SOUTH-WEST AFRICA PROTEST

Berlin, To-day.

The announcement that the memorandum addressed by the Germans of South-West Africa to the League of Nations Mandate Committee will not be discussed in the Committee's June meeting, but only next year, is causing considerable criticism in Berlin political circles.

It is pointed out here that the Memorandum was submitted to the South African Government some African Government's duty to relay the memorandum to Geneva.

If Pretoria wanted to apply a policy of procrastination then it would be incumbent on the Geneva Committee to ask for the memorandum.

FRANCO-TURKISH ACCORD

Settlement Of Sandjak Problem

Geneva, To-day.

The French and Turkish delegates signed last Saturday at Geneva two agreements which had been negotiated at Ankara, simultaneously with the Geneva discussions on the Sandjak of Alexandretta.

The first agreement guarantees the territorial integrity of Sandjak, which is to be demilitarised according to the new Statute.

The second agreement which will also be submitted to Syria for signature, guarantees the Turkish-Syrian border.—Trans-Ocean.

The R.M.S. "Empress of Russia" is due at Nagasaki on Tuesday at 6.00 a.m. and leaves Yokohama on Saturday 1.00 a.m.

It would be unfair of the Mandate Committee to consider only one-sided statements regarding the situation of Germans in South-West Africa emanating from a Mandatory power.

In Berlin political circles it is asked whether it is intended at Cape Town and Geneva that Germans of South-West Africa should be denied even the meagre possibilities of lodging complaints permitted by the Mandate Statute.—Trans-Ocean.

Heading Towards Revolution

Madras, To-day.

The Congress Party has been piling up successive difficulties in the way of its being able to accept office, declared Sir K. V. Reddinayadu, the Chief Minister of Madras Province in the course of a speech at Pulla.

The Minister dealt exhaustively with the problems associated with the constitutional difficulties caused by the attitude of the Congress Party, who, with majority membership of the Legislatures are refusing to form ministries, and asked:

"Is it a baseless suspicion that members of Congress are simply evading the task of governing the province they are dwelling in?" Sir K. V. Reddinayadu went on to suggest that their purpose was the creation of militant dissatisfaction which would not cease with the mere wrecking of the Government of India Act, on which the new Constitution is framed, but will plunge the country into revolution.—Reuter.

MAROONED IN THE DESERT

Sydney, To-day.

After being marooned for nine days in the great Central Australian Desert, an aerial survey party which made a forced descent and for which an anxious search was carried out for four days before the missing scientists were located, has at last been relieved.

Help came in the form of a motor transport carrying food and supplies which struck out into the desert as soon as the party had been located from the air. The motor rescue party reached the scene yesterday.

The aerial survey party is headed by Sir Herbert Gepp, the Commonwealth Government geological expert.

It appears that Sir Herbert Gepp's plane was forced down in a wild spot some eight hundred miles south of Port Darwin on May 21.

LOCATED AFTER 4 DAYS

They were located by air search parties four days later and the relief wagon was despatched last Tuesday. In the meantime, planes dropped food supplies to the marooned party, with which constant wireless communication has been maintained.

A runway is now being constructed to permit the stranded plane to take off.—Reuter.

If Handicapped By Rheumatism

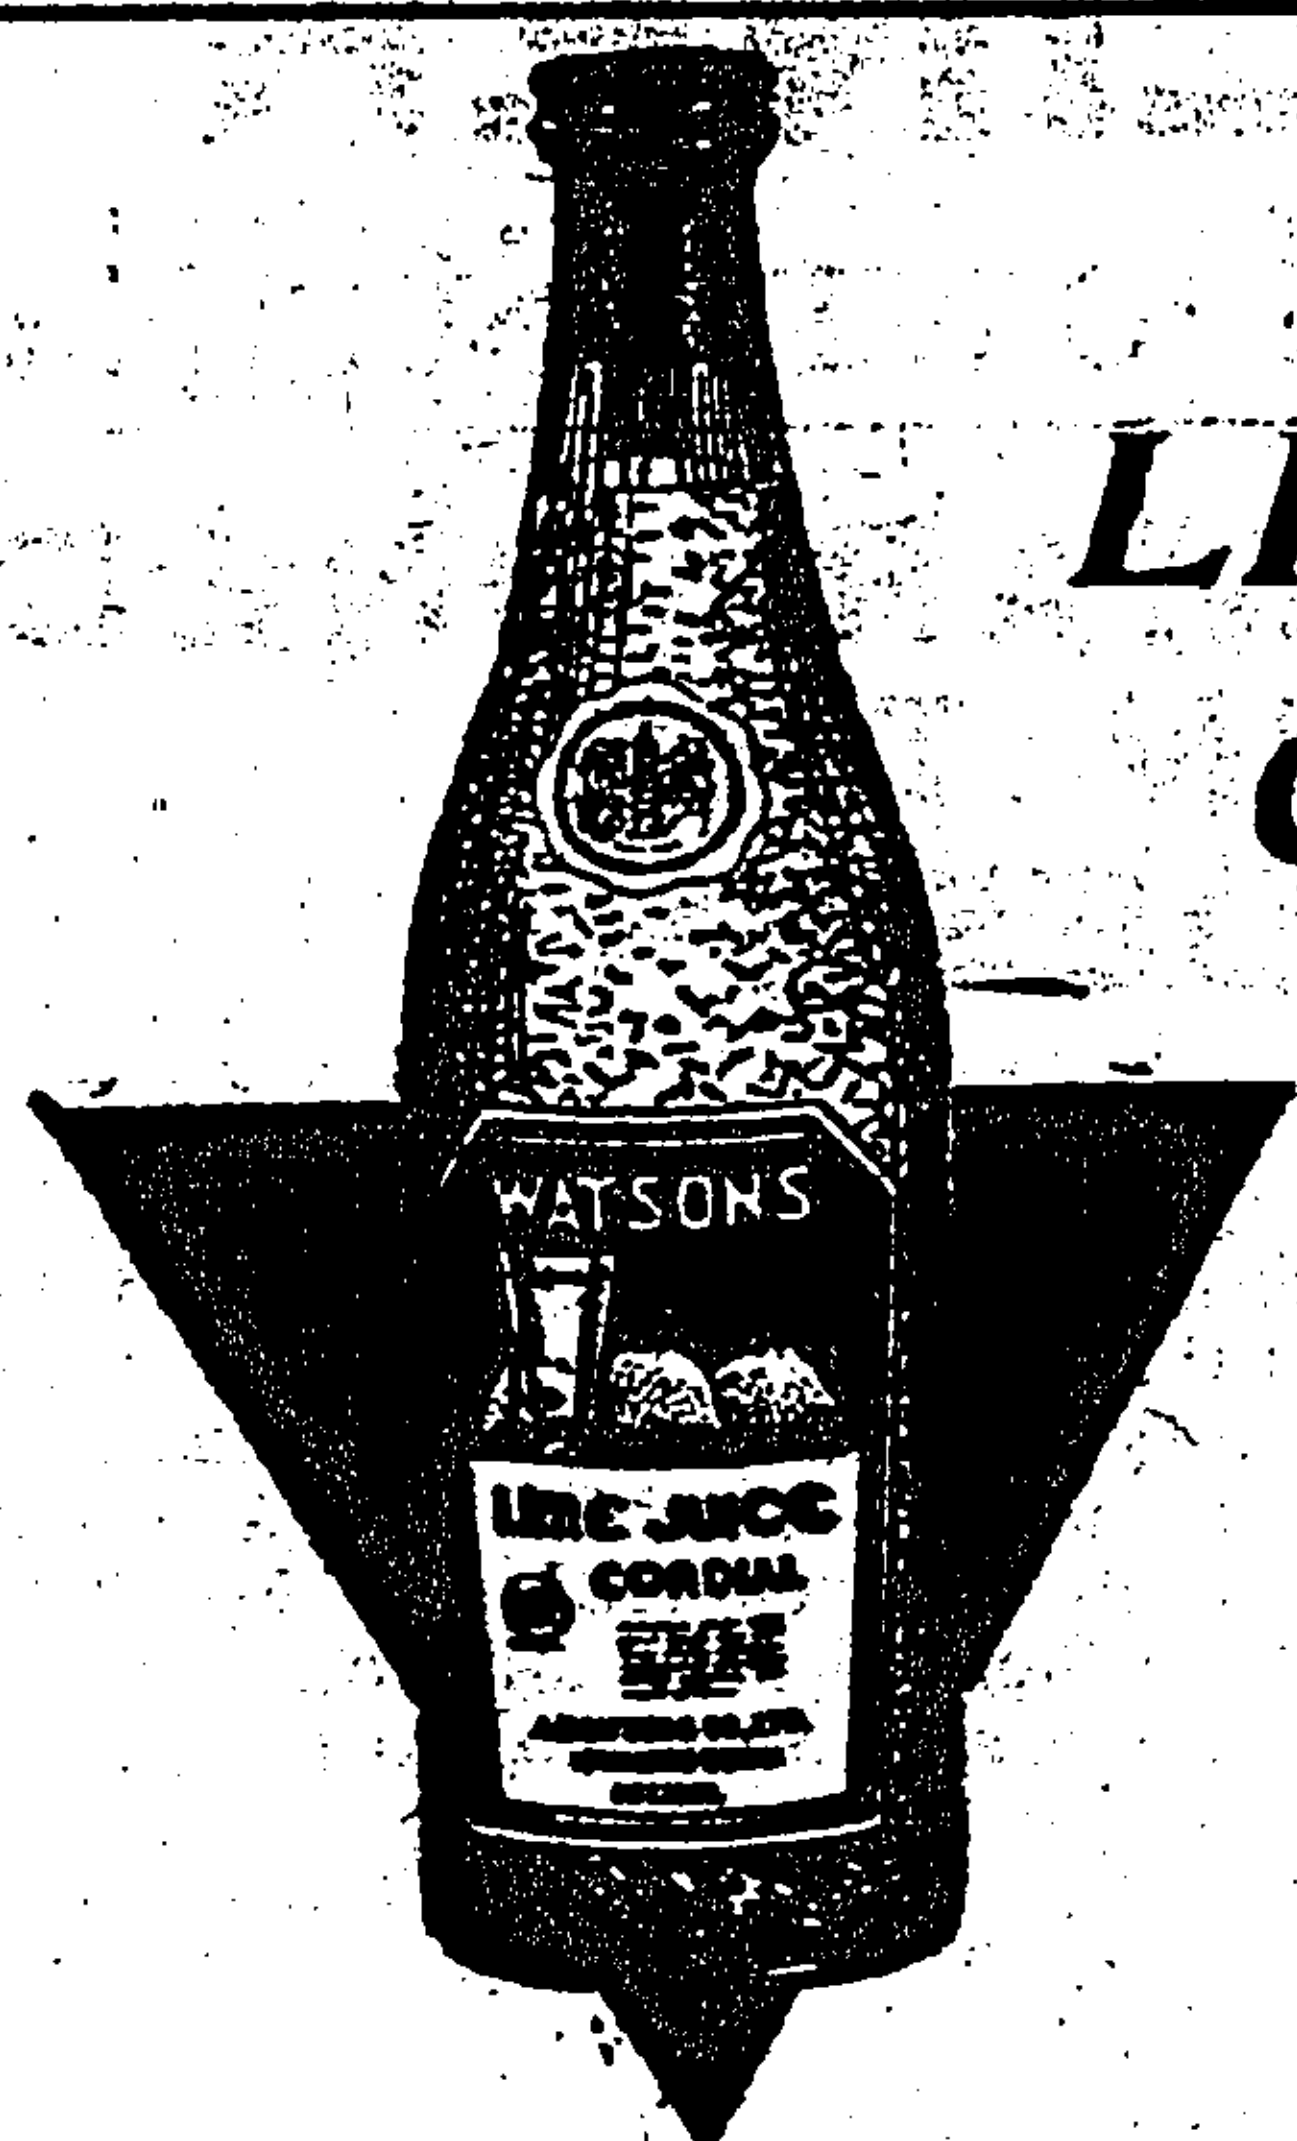

Let Tonic Treatment With
Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Drive It Out of Your Blood

Because medical science is still puzzling over the causes of rheumatism is no reason why sufferers from this crippling malady should continue to endure its pains. The fact that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a proved remedy for rheumatism with a world-wide record of cures, should be sufficiently convincing evidence that herein is to be found a specific of exceptional merit.

Whatever the predisposing causes, it is in the blood that the rheumatism poisons are conveyed throughout the body to the muscles and joints wherein they lodge, causing the stiffness, swelling and acute pain which are characteristic symptoms of the disease. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills not only rapidly purify the blood, but they enrich and increase the blood stream, thus building up the nerves, and imparting new life, health and strength to the whole system.

If you are afflicted with rheumatism in any of its forms begin a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to-day; they will surely do you good. Chemists everywhere supply them.

TOWARDS A NEW WESTERN PACT

The interesting feature of the final severance of Belgium from her Locarno Pact obligations, in the joint Anglo-French declaration at the League Council meeting last week, was the interpretation that the agreement offered promise of earlier fulfilment of Mr. Eden's Western Pact ambitions. The belief was apparently based upon the recognition contained in the agreement that changes in conditions in Europe have revolutionised the international outlook. And on the basis that the problems would, for that reason, be approached from a new angle, the assumption was probably a fair one.

A realistic appreciation is certainly not untimely no matter whence came the stimulus, although, as a matter of fact it was furnished by the King of the Belgians. Last October a speech by King Leopold to his Cabinet Ministers, published at the request of those Ministers, cited developments in Europe which have entirely altered the position of Belgium as a contracting Power in collective assurance of the peace of Europe. He pointed to German rearmament, to the reoccupation of the Rhineland, and the German repudiation of the Locarno Treaty, to the expensive changes in the mechanical equipment of Continental armies, and especially to the increased power and range of military aircraft. The feeling which King Leopold represented is widely held in Belgium: it is that the failure of "collective security" and of the Locarno pact has entirely altered Belgium's readiness to accept commitments as a guaranteeing Power, and, indeed, her capacity to sustain the financial burden of such commitments. After the Rhineland reoccupation the Western Locarno Powers tried to devise an agreement to mark time until a new Locarno treaty could be negotiated with Germany. There were "staff talks" between Britain, France, and Belgium, in order to maintain French and Belgian confidence during that interval. But the proposed "new Locarno" was somehow hesitant, "collective security" did not for long convince anybody after the failure of the League sanctions against Italy, and the "staff talks" only renewed in Belgium the resentment felt by the Flemish population, which is inclined to oppose alignment of Belgian defence policy in suspicion of Germany only.

The Germans were prompt to take advantage of this waning enthusiasm in Belgium for active participation in the "Versailles system," as Berlin calls it. This term did not describe the Locarno pact from the British view of it; but Locarno's continuation of the Rhineland demilitarisation, of course, induced other views in Germany. The Flemish differences with the Walloon and Catholic element in Belgium provided the German opportunity. These differences are traditional, and the Germans exploited them during the wartime occupation of Belgium. Devaluation of the currency has assisted considerably to restore Belgian State finances and business generally. Tax-payers were by no means disposed to face new taxation for further heavy rearmament and increases in army service for purposes other than strict self-defence. Dissension within the Catholic party in politics produced a rebel faction which threw in its lot with the young and eloquent agitator, Degrelle, leader of the Rexists, who derides Parliament and leans towards Hitlerism. The Flemish Nationalists, encouraged by German propaganda, promptly joined the Rexists against the Van Zeeland Government. At a time when it was feared that the French syndicalist "stay-in strikes" might spread into Belgium, the Rexists planned a monster counter-demonstration in Brussels, which, however, was forbidden, and fizzled out. Under King Leopold's influence for moderation the excitement came to a head only in the dramatic order by Degrelle (who is not in Parliament) to a Rexist member to resign in order to allow himself (Degrelle) to challenge the Government to an electoral trial of strength. The Premier promptly accepted the challenge personally. The by-election crushed Degrelle.

In his speech to the Reichstag on January 30, Herr Hitler declared his willingness in the cause of peace to assure Belgian (and Dutch) independence, "for all time." Hitler's statement encouraged the aggressiveness of the Flemish Nationalists, and the French Government feared the rise of a Belgian opinion preferring a Teutonic re-orientation of Belgian policy. Moreover, there was uncertainty in Paris and London about what the new Belgian neutrality declaration might entail — abandonment of the League, perhaps; abandonment of sympathy with Britain and France; abandonment of national defence? M. Spaak made it quite clear to the League Council, as he had made it clear previously in talks with Mr. Eden and M. Delbos that there was no intention of doing any of these things. The new policy can hardly be called a return to the pre-war position, which was one imposed upon the country under treaty in 1839 between the Great Powers to suit their own compromise. Belgium's move was rather to assert independence for herself. The new guarantees are different from those of the pre-war treaty, being by the Powers to Belgium direct, and not to each other about her. They are, however, susceptible to interpretation also as long-range exchanges between the chief Locarno Powers themselves, in reassurance concerning one of the Locarno treaty articles.

She's The Bulldog BREED!

How To Amuse This Girl

Try a few days in the country. If it's summer you can swim, sail, play tennis . . . and dance all night. If it's winter you can ski, skate . . . and dance all night. If you have only one evening you might just dance all night. She'll watch hockey matches or the races or broad comedy. She's not likely to be much of a drinker, but if she drinks she drinks like a man . . .

THE adrenal girl is the one who brings home the tennis trophies, the aggressive girl, generally of the Great Outdoors.

Since it is a current fashion to partake of such adrenal diversions . . . and since many a clever thyroid or even a well-balanced pre-post-pituitary can give a fairly good imitation of an adrenal type . . . it is necessary that you should be able to pin her down accurately through points peculiarly her own.

This is extremely important.

If she is the right mate for you she will be a good one indeed. But unless you can adjust yourself to her temperament with precision you will be a mighty uncomfortable and miserable male.

She has a stocky build with a short and probably thick neck.

She's compact, with firm figure and hard, knotty, well-developed muscles, readily discernible.

Her hair is almost invariably curly and often unkindly kinky. It is thick, coarse and dry, with a tendency to look bushy.

The hair line is low. Although generally dark, the colour is often unexpected and unexplainable.

Your blonde Italian and your brunette Norwegian are indubitably adrenal dominants.

Many, if not most, redheads can be classed as this type.

Unless the glands are working on all fours to prevent it, there will be a heavy growth of hair on face and body and even on the back.

In other words, you get a definite impression of hair.

She is square-headed and her face is irregularly broad.

She's the kind of a girl who can very easily turn into The Woman-With-a-Chin.

Her nose is prominent, straight, and beautifully modelled.

The most noticeable thing about her teeth are the long, sharply pointed canines. Her teeth in general are well developed and slightly yellowish in cast.

Her skin will tell you a lot, for there's something very peculiar about it. It is curiously sensitive to ultra-violet light.

It is generally heavily pigmented with freckles or birthmarks, but you may become suspicious of a more than usually dark complexion.

When the adrenal is functioning in perfect order the skin will prob-bably be clear and rosy.

But if the adrenal is called upon to be unusually active the skin will turn quite dark and sallow . . . and since the adrenal skin is usually harsh and dry, it will become deeply lined.

Her fingernails are typical. They are thick, rounded, claw-like, even though they surmount squarish, short-fingered hands.

Her walk is aggressive, springy, apt to be slow but to suggest a wealth of physical energy.

She is a straightforward, direct, decisive little person dominated unfortunately, by the ups and downs of her adrenal gland.

The adrenal is more inconsistent than its fellows. And it is, after all, an emergency gland . . . the gland of combat, fight and fear that, during moments of danger, speeds up all physical and mental processes.

If we call on it too often . . . and four out of five of every one of us who live among the clashes and strains of city life certainly do demand a lot of it . . . the result is exhaustion and at the very least a mild neurasthenia.

Think, then of the condition the girl who is dominated by her adrenal can work herself into.

She is susceptible, let us say, to nervous breakdowns.

It is then that she becomes subject to cold hands and feet, to mental sluggishness and great bodily weariness, to chronic indecision, to wild bursts of temper at the slightest provocation . . . which subside into complete exhaustion, to timidity, to lack of confidence and

To-day, KATHERINE TOWNS-END describes the girls whose adrenal gland dominates their lives.

to wild unreasoning and unreasonable fears.

Animal Vigour—Animal Spirits

But that is only when too much is demanded of her . . . though too much will always be demanded of her, since she is energetic, efficient and an acceptor of responsibility.

She is a slave-driver as well as slave-driven.

She has a bulldog loyalty.

And you can rest assured that, once you have captured her for your own, her sometimes trying stubbornness will also result in a constancy that will follow her to her grave.

She is what is known as an extrovert.

Normally, she is not the brooding type . . . especially if she gets the chance to smack a golf ball at regular intervals.

If she is physically feminine you can be sure that she is at least psychically virile. She can hold her own in a masculine world.

She has a nice animal-vigour (the girl who will out-dance you any time).

You size up her animal spirits for yourself, for she is subject to extreme reserve and stolidity as well as to fine enthusiasm. The intelligence of your approach will have more than a little to do with your success.

AIN'T LOVE GLAND!

He Falls For Women-But They Can't Land Him!

HERE'S your popular fellow. The thyroid man. Good looking, good humoured, ingratiating, sociable . . . yet withal sensitive, and if he doesn't watch himself, poetic.

Because he is gracious and quick to catch and understand the other person's point of view, he is sometimes accused of insincerity.

But actually he's pretty honest and pretty frank.

He's extremely susceptible to women, but so much in demand that it might be a bit hard to land him . . . permanently.

He's going to be successful, though, in the eyes of the world, and the kind of husband other women will envy.

He's probably slightly over average in height, smoothly put together, though with more than a tendency toward leanness. His muscles ripple under his skin, unobtrusively.

He's got a high domed forehead, beneath which burn warm extraordinary eyes. His face is oval. His nose is high arched and delicate.

His mouth wide but rather thin and extremely sensitive.

His teeth are beautifully white and regular, and he means it when he smiles. At least, he did once. By now he may have learned how winning that smile is and he tempted to use it indiscriminately.

He's got wonderfully smooth soft skin. His eyebrows are thick and extend well out over the outer half of the eye. His Adam's apple is probably discernible.

He's imaginative, yet by no means just a daydreamer. He thinks, reacts and acts quickly, and generally with good judgment, though a shade on the emotional side.

He's inclined to be impulsive, which perhaps is the weakest point in his soft, though fairly impenetrable, armour.

EARL BALDWIN TO MA

AS PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVE OF HIS MAJESTY

London, To-day.

Earl Baldwin is to make a trip to all parts of the British Empire next year as the personal representative of King George VI, declared the "Sunday Referee," in an exclusive report yesterday.

It is stated that the full details of the journey have already been settled between Earl Baldwin and His Majesty.

NETHERLANDS LOAN OFFER

Amsterdam, To-day.

A bonded loan not to exceed in amount 450,000,000 Dutch florins and bearing interest at 3 per cent., proceeds of which will be used for the reorganisation of railways, is about to be issued by the Dutch Government, declares the Nederlandsche Staatscourant dated May 28.

Interest payments begin July 1, 1937. Bond and coupons are free of future taxation.—Trans-Ocean.

The trip, it is stated, is the outcome of suggestions made by the representatives of the Dominions now assembled in London for the Imperial Conference.

It is indicated that the King himself is not likely to make any Empire tour.

The "Sunday Express" stated yesterday that His Majesty has been urgently advised to take a holiday of several weeks to enable him to recuperate from the exceptional exertions of the last few weeks.

Discussing the report, the "Sunday Express" says that the King's health is still quite satisfactory but if he were to continue working at the present high pressure, he would be put to overstrain himself.

King George and Queen Elizabeth, with the two princesses, will accordingly go to some seaside resort in the near future.—Trans-Ocean.

BRITISH EXPERT FOR CHINA TEA INDUSTRY

The appointment of Mr. P. E. Witham as a technical expert of the China National Tea Corporation, which was recommended by the board of directors of the concern, has been formally approved by Mr. Wu Ting-chang, Minister of Industry.

Mr. Witham, it is learned, was formerly connected with Messrs. Charles Hope and Son in London and has had 14 years experience in practical planting of tea on some of the well-known estates in Assam.

His engagement as an expert to the China National Tea Corporation was highly recommended by the Sino-British Trade Association, the British Ambassador to China, Sir Hughe Knatchbull-Hugessen and endorsed by leading tea merchants in Shanghai and London.

Export Company For Nanking?

The People's Economic Reconstruction Movement Association in Nanking is studying a joint proposal drawn up by its secretary, Mr. King Chi-po and expert, Mr. Cheng Chu-ping, calling for the establishment of an export company in the capital.

The proposed company, it is pointed out in the proposal, will lend an impetus to the development of native industry in the surrounding districts of Nanking and provide jobs for thousands of the unemployed.

The opening of the export concern is considered opportune in view of the suspension of the International Export Company, a British firm which did a thriving business in exporting eggs and poultry products in former years. About 2,000 workers of the firm are now out of jobs.

H. G. WELLS AND LOW

"Wisdom About Life"

Mr. H. G. Wells, when he opened an exhibition of cartoons by Low at the London Gallery, Cork-street, paid the cartoonist glowing tribute. "I should like to say something about his extraordinary wisdom about life," he said. "He makes you laugh, and you are apt to forget that he is an extraordinarily wise man."

"Low is only half-way through this career. I doubt if he has reached his zenith. What he shows you here is not the whole product of Low. Behind there is other work."

"I happen to know that he has been experimenting with colour, and it is significant that he does not show you anything of it to-day. One of the most significant enterprises you have in the world of art is the proper use of colour."

"The human being is overloaded with it, and most of us spend a great proportion of our time trying to disregard it. I think Low is going to give us something very interesting in the way of treatment of colour as a method of expression."

The exhibition includes 144 cartoons, all brilliant, many of them famous, which the artist has hung in three sections under the suggestive titles, "The League and Foreign Affairs," "Home Politics," and "British Empire." There are 30 examples of Low's vivid portraiture.

The catalogue is worded by the artist himself, and he has written an introduction which almost compares in wit with his cartoons.

A.O.F.C. DIVIDEND

The defunct American Oriental Finance Corporation has begun distribution of 5 per cent. dividend to depositors and creditors, totalling 375,000 yuan.

Checks were likewise forwarded to the Tientsin branch. Total distributions thus far totaled 27 and ½ per cent. George Sellett, in charge of the liquidation, announced another dividend will be shortly issued.

Two Italian transports packed with troops and a cargo steamer carrying motor-cars and aeroplanes passed through the Suez Canal to the Red Sea.

A non-stop flight from Dessau, Central Germany, to Natal, Brazil, by a German plane, was abandoned at Bathurst, Gambia, owing to strong head winds.

MIXED DOUBLES MATCHES TO-DAY

FOUR OPEN RINKS GAMES YESTERDAY

Extra Heads In Two Encounters

RECREIO FOUR'S CLOSE SHAVE

Exciting bowls was witnessed in the first four games in the First Round of the Open Rinks championship, and of these three were close affairs extra heads being played in two games.

Omar's rink was at one time leading by 10 shots to 4, but Grimmitt's four drew level at 15 all, at the 19th head. The brilliant play of U. M. Omar in the closing stages however, enabled the Craigenower four to win by four shots.

W. Mair's rink were forced to play an extra head in their game against H. A. Alves. At the 19th head the score was 14 all, but Alves, in the next head, scored a five and it seemed that the Portuguese had won the match, but the Police four managed to draw level in the last head Alves' quartette scored a three in the extra head.

A single in an extra head enabled A. Hyde Lay quartette to beat C. G. Silva's four at Kowloon Docks yesterday.

ROYAL ENTRY IN CORONATION YACHT REGATTA

London, May 7.

The Crown Prince of Norway has entered his six metre yacht Norna VI, for all the races in the Coronation Regatta to be held in Torbay from June 19 to July 3. The Prince and Crown Princess will be the guests of Mr. C. R. Fairey on board his 580-ton motor yacht Evadne during the regatta.

There will be no fewer than 13 races for the six metre class at Torquay, Babbacombe, Paignton, Brixham and Dartmouth, in the Coronation Regatta. Prince Olav will be at the tiller of Norna VI. in these sailing matches.

Pote-Hunt Playing Last Season Of Soccer?

JACKIE Pote-Hunt, who recently passed through the Colony en route to Shanghai is contemplating another soccer season before he gives up the game. He will probably again be included in the Shanghai Interport side to meet Hong Kong in the Northern port next February.

SWIMMING POOL FOR ADELAIDE

Sydney, May 2.

Strong Victorian interests are endeavouring to establish a modern Olympic swimming pool in Adelaide. Private capital for the construction of an up-to-date open-air pool at a cost of between £15,000 and £20,000, is guaranteed if the City Council will allow the use of one of two specified sites at a nominal rental. One site is alongside the existing City Baths, and the other at the rear of Government House.

OPEN PAIRS SECOND ROUND TIES TO-DAY

Some Good Games Should Be Seen

The outstanding game in this afternoon's Colony Open Pairs Lawn Bowls competition, weather permitting, is the encounter between the Police Recreation Club pair, E. G. Post and W. Mair, and R. O. Read and G. H. Sheriff, of the Kowloon Bowling Green Club.

The Police pair, on form, are capable of upsetting many of the fancied combinations, and though they will probably be extended by the Austin Road pair, they should reach the Third Round.

A. Hyde Lay and W. Macfarlane, should encounter little difficulty from W. H. Atkins and B. W. Whiteman, of Craigenower Cricket Club, while Groves and Green will probably be no match for J. Revie and J. C. Brown, two seasoned players from Kowloon Docks.

The game between D. W. Waterton and J. L. Tetley and J. Gibson and T. Ferguson should be evenly contested, with the former pair reaching the Third Round.

The following is this week's programme:

TO-DAY
A. Hyde Lay and W. Macfarlane	v. W. H. Atkins and B. W. Whiteman.

U.S.R.C.-C.R.C. CLASH IS BIG ATTRACTION

MISS R. RUMJAHN TO PLAY FOR HOLDERS?

K.C.C. 1 ARE VERY STRONG

WEATHER permitting the Hong Kong Lawn Tennis League will open this afternoon with two matches in the Mixed Doubles League, when the United Services Recreation Club will oppose the Chinese Recreation Club, the holders, at King's Park, while the Kowloon Cricket Club 1 and 2 teams will clash at Cox's Road.

Much has already been said of the K.C.C. teams and their senior combination should win comfortably against the juniors, although the efforts of the new combinations will be looked forward to with much interest and speculation.

Teddy Fincher and Miss Rose Perry, if they combine effectively enough, will probably act as the anchor of the first team, while Ernie Fincher and Miss O'Dalziel, paired for the first time, should also offer formidable opposition.

S. A. Gray and Miss Allison Mackenzie have played together before and should acquit themselves favourably through the League season. In the junior team, Burnett and Miss Violet Bradbury and Clark and Mrs. Knight should also form good pairs. Guest Ramsay and Mrs. Kew are their third string.

The United Services Recreation Club were not given a chance of having a trial, which should have taken place last Saturday, but which was washed out by the rain. Goldman and Sullivan and Mrs. Rice-Evans and Mrs. Ashton are certain ties, and their biggest problem will be to find their third string. On the male side they have either G. E. R. Divett or J. M. Tomlinson, while Miss Tyler, a newcomer, will probably be their third string lady player. They should, with the talent at their disposal, offer the K.C.C., who will probably be their biggest challengers for League honours, stiff opposition.

C.R.C. DIFFICULTIES

To-day they will meet the Chinese Recreation Club, who are very hard put to field a team, mainly through the absence of their best lady players, who are indisposed.

I hear that Miss Rose Rumjahn is likely to make up their second string lady player, thus leaving them with the problem of finding a third lady.

In Tak-cheuk and Mrs. Chiu Chun-chiu should be good enough for three sets, that is, if they are able to overcome their opponents' first pair, while Lee Wai-tong and Miss Rumjahn are good enough for the other two to enable them to secure the points.

It is hoped that there will be no further rain this week to enable the League to make an auspicious opening.

PUI CHING DEFEAT JAPANESE

6-5 Baseball Win Yesterday

Only one game was played in the Baseball League yesterday, resulting in Pui Ching nosing out the Japanese by 6 runs to 5 in an exciting encounter, in which the Japanese scored two runs in the last innings, but failed to obtain the equaliser in spite of a three base hit by Mikuni.

Pui Ching obtained an early lead of four runs in the first innings through three hits and assisted by two errors, but after, that the pitching of Amasaki prevented them for adding to their score till the third innings, when they scored another run. Pui Ching scored again in the fifth innings.

The Japanese failed to notch up a run until the fourth innings, when Mikuni came home on a sacrifice hit by Yasuda. They added two more runs in the next innings. In the last innings, when three runs in arrears, the Japanese scored two runs through Takeda and Amasaki who came home on a three base hit by Mikuni. With only one down and man on base, Kato, instead of trying to bring Mikuni home on a bunt, hit to outfield and was caught, while all Japanese hopes were dashed when Yamasaki was out on a hit to third. The game between the Pui Ching and the Filipino was not played owing to the uncertainty of the weather.

PLAYERS' BIGGER BONUSES

CONFERENCE OF LEAGUE CLUBS

SOCCER SCHEME OUTLINED

London, May 1.

Players will have higher talent money in the Football League and F.A. Cup games next season if proposals outlined at yesterday's London conference of the League clubs go through.

As the result of a proposal by Huddersfield Town to increase the bonuses paid to players in the Cup ties, the League Management Committee announced that they are to propose the following scheme of talent money payments for next season:

In the First and Second Divisions the clubs to be allowed to distribute amongst their players the following amount: Divisions 1 and 2: Champion £275, runners-up £220, third team £165, fourth £110. Third Division: Champions £220, runners-up £165, third team £110. It is expected that these awards will become operative.

"MISERABLE FEE"

Mr. Bendle Moore, of Derby County, asked the League Management Committee to use their influence with the Football Association to secure that players taking part in the England v. Scotland match receive £25 each instead of the present "miserable fee" of £6.

Mr. C. E. Sutcliffe, who presided, pointed out that fees in international matches were uniform all round among the four countries, and were governed by a decision of the International Board, but he would use what influence he could in this matter.

TWO-REFEREES SCHEME

Another debate on the two-referee scheme took place. Mr. W. C. Cuff explained on behalf of the Management Committee, the F. A. Council's proposal to the International Board for permission to try the method in the practice games and also in three selected League games next season, with the consent of the clubs concerned.

He appealed to the clubs to give this scheme a trial. That was all they asked for—a trial. Everything would still be subject to the club's final decision. Leeds United and Newcastle United supported, and Derby County and Wolverhampton Wanderers opposed.

NOT ENOUGH

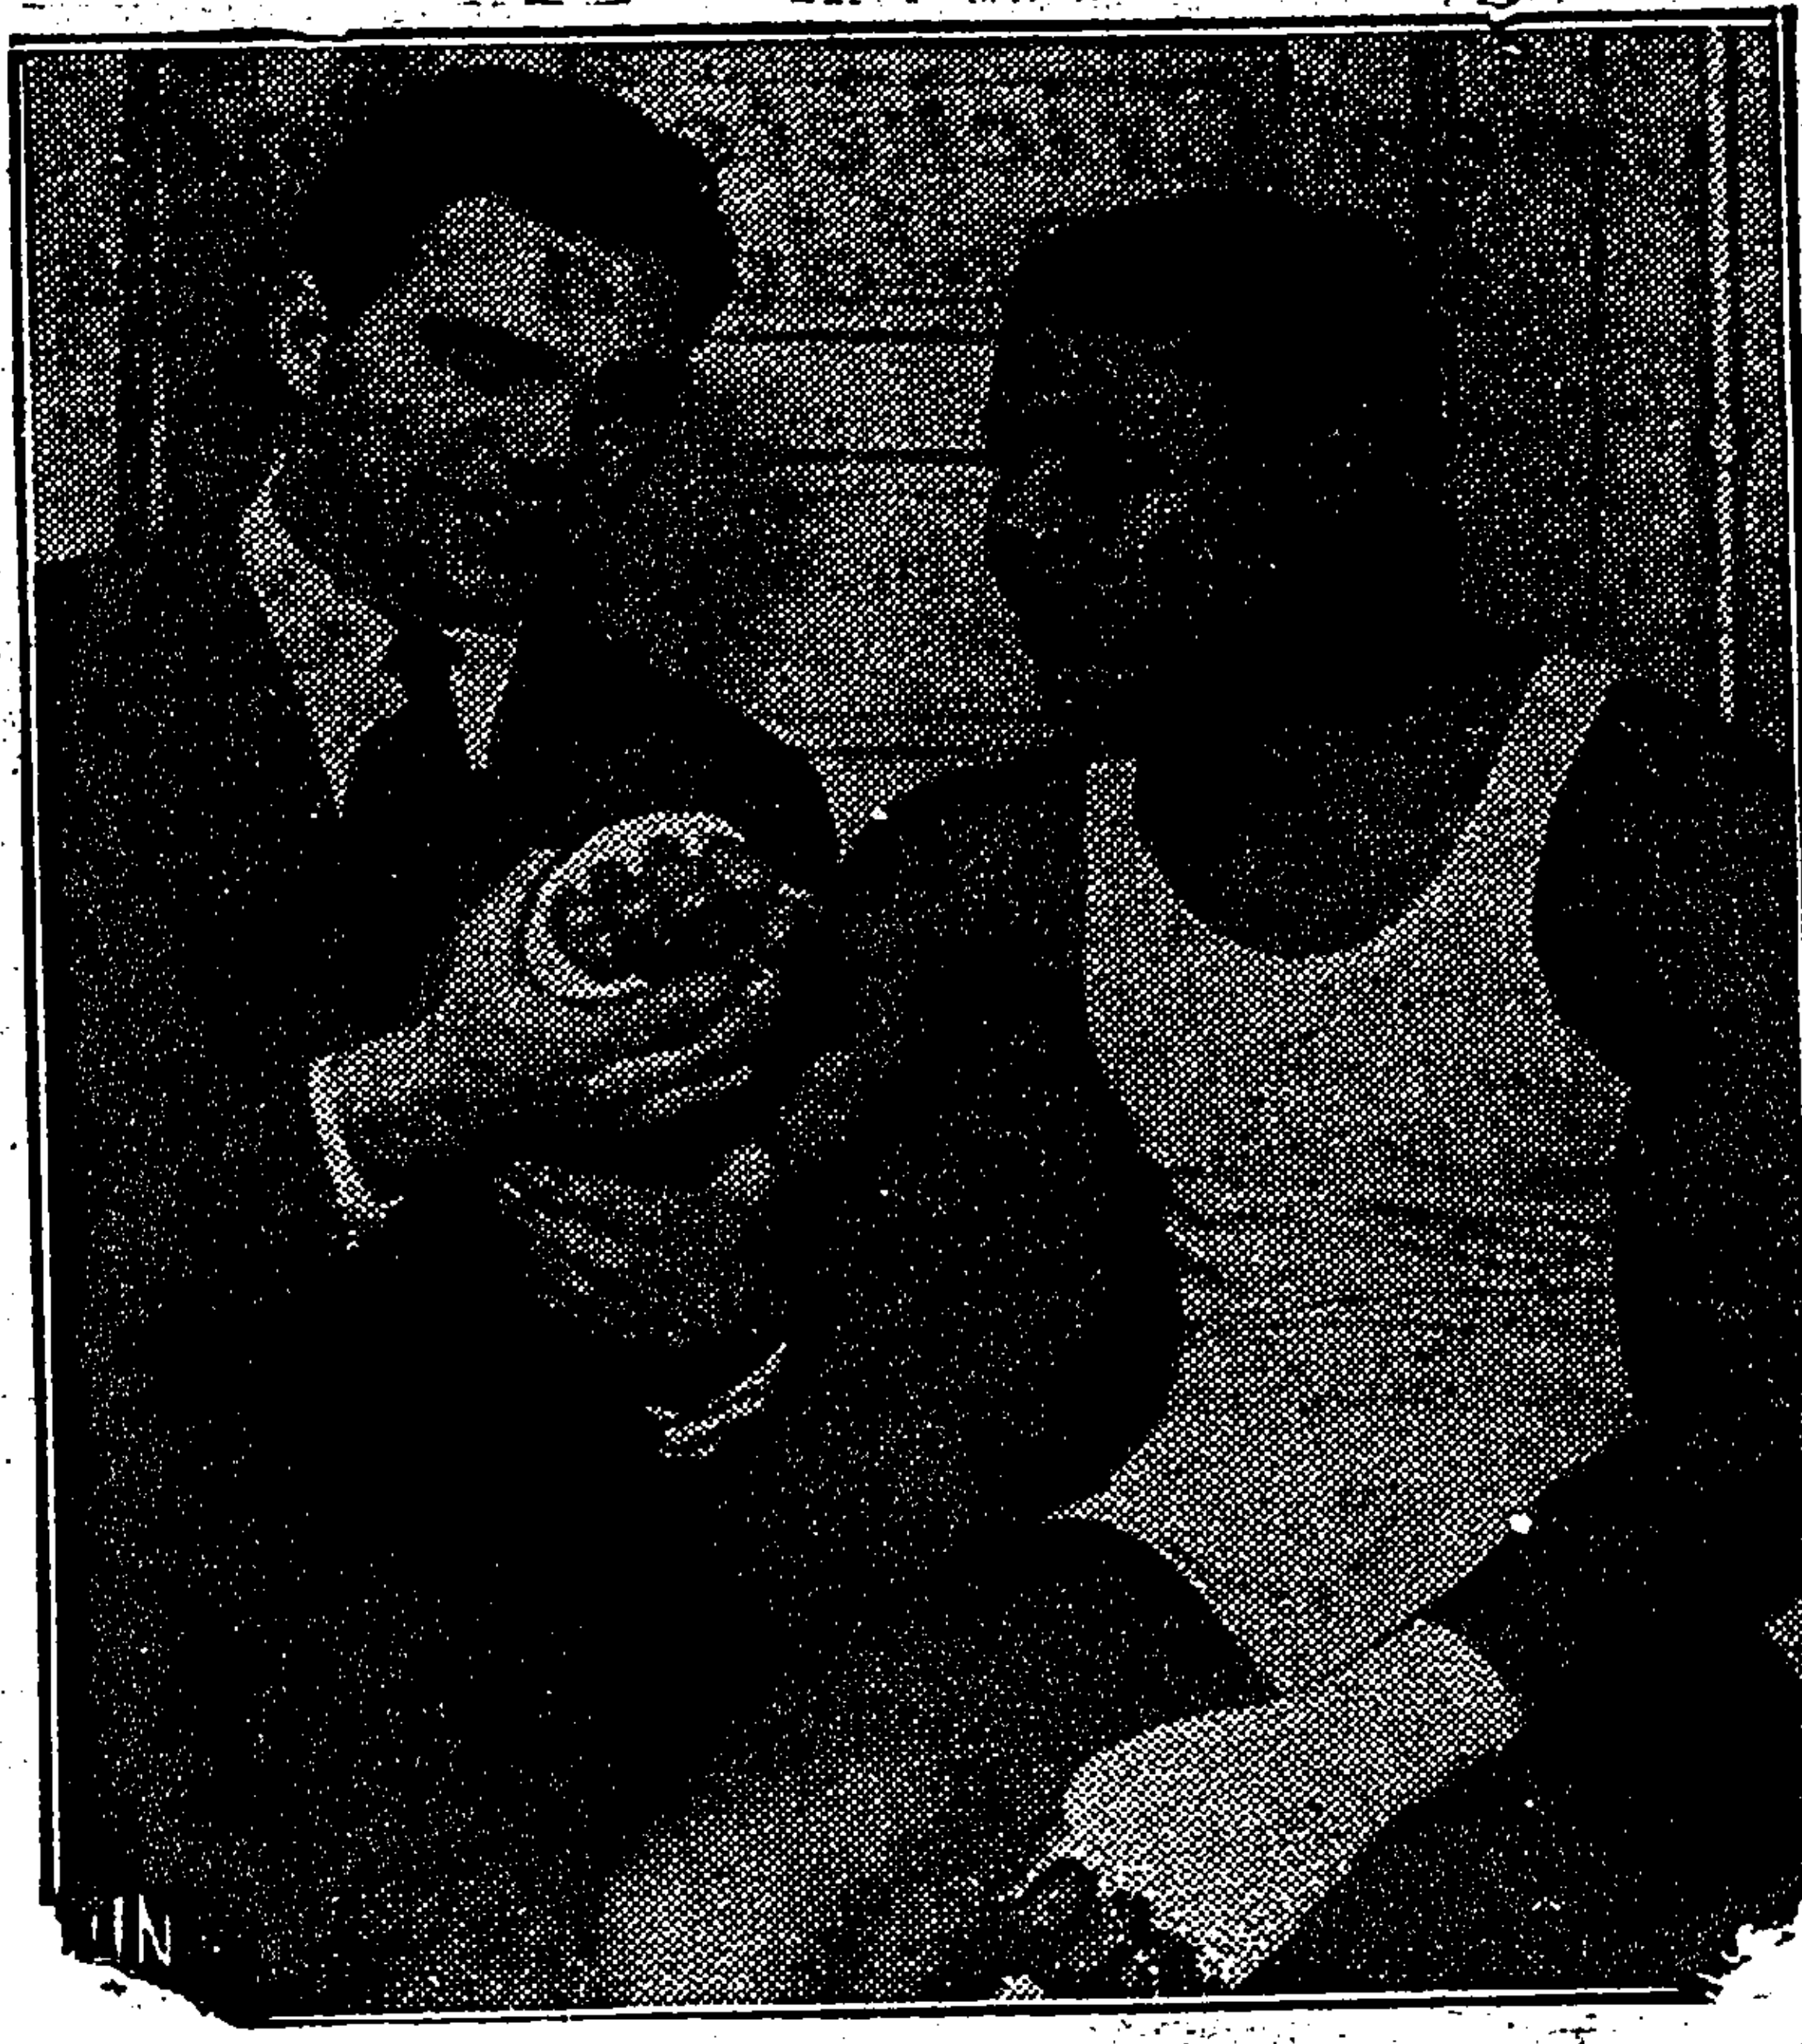

Mr. George Allison (Arsenal) said a trial in three League matches was not enough. The system should be tried if at all in a League match a week throughout the season. No decision was taken but Mr. Sutcliffe said the Scottish League were so interested that if the trials took place in England they had informed him they would attend them.

Mr. Bendle Moore intimated that at the annual meeting he would renew his plea for four clubs instead of two to be promoted and relegated each season. "I am fully convinced it will be carried this year," he declared.

ENTERTAINMENT TAX

A Tottenham Hotspur resolution urging the revision of the entertainment tax was carried. Mr. G. Wagstaffe Simmons pointing out that the Football League clubs paid £300,000 a year, and that the tax caused some clubs to suffer a loss on the season.

Tottenham Hotspur's proposal to

BARNETT HITS 101 IN AN HOUR

FASTEST CENTURY FOR SEVERAL YEARS

LONDON, MAY 7.

BARNETT, ONE OF ENGLAND'S MOST SUCCESSFUL BATS—MEN ON THE RECENT AUSTRALIAN TOUR, SCORED 101 IN EXACTLY AN HOUR FOR GLOUCESTER AGAINST HAMPSHIRE AT SOUTHAMPTON YESTERDAY. IT IS THE FASTEST CENTURY SCORED SINCE SIR WALTER LAWRENCE'S TROPHY AND PRIZE FOR THE FASTEST THREE-FIGURE INNINGS OF THE SEASON WAS INSTITUTED. AND BARNETT HAS THUS EARLY MADE A STRIKING BID FOR THIS SEASON'S PRIZES.

Barnett played superb cricket. In 10 minutes before lunch he scored 26; he reached 50 out of 57 in another quarter of an hour, and made his runs out of 132 scored while he was at the wicket. He was out in the same over, caught at extra cover off another big hit.

MR. H. D. G. LEVESON-GOWER AND SURREY'S POLICY

E.R.T. Holmes' Men Always Play To A Finish

"Surrey would rather sacrifice a match than play dull cricket," stated Mr. H. D. G. Leveson-Gower at the annual meeting of the Oval yesterday.

Mr. Leveson-Gower was referring to Surrey's surplus last year of £493, when, owing to the bad weather, most of the counties lost money. He said that the withdrawal of the entrance fee for one year, which brought an influx of new members, and E. R. T. Holmes' policy of always going all out to finish a match had created a new interest in Surrey cricket.

number players in League matches was heavily defeated. Mr. Bendle Moore remarked: "If a player is good enough he numbers himself," and Mr. J. I. Taylor, of Preston North End, added: "It savours of numbering greyhounds."

The conference also requested the League Management Committee to consider a scheme for introducing standardised goalposts and crossbars, and the marking of the goal line.

Off and on drives were Barnett's best strokes; the fieldsmen at times could only stand and watch the ball flash past them. He hit Herman into an adjoining orchard and lifted a ball from Lawson out of the ground. Altogether he hit four sixes and a dozen fours.

The hearty innings followed a Hampshire breakdown. The home county started the day 94 behind with six wickets in hand, and were all out for an addition of 62.

HANTS COLLAPSE

Creese played a good innings, but his colleagues could do little against the accurate slow bowling of Sinfield and Goddard, who bowled unchanged throughout the morning. The last three wickets fell at the same total.

The chilly weather, which caused many of the players to wear sweaters, could not be blamed for Hampshire's poor display. Creese hit one ball out of the ground and sent another into the ladies' pavilion to show what could be done with the bowling, but he had no emulators.

Hammond, who seemed likely to rival Barnett's quick century after scoring 50 in 45 minutes, was out forcing the pace, having hit one six and seven fours.

SPEED RECORDS AND LIMITS

AIMS OF BRITISH DESIGNER

BEST CARS FOR OUR ROADS

(By A. G. THROSSELL)

London, May 7.

The indefatigable Capt. Eyston has been making more records, one of them being 99 m.p.h. for 24 consecutive hours on a car driven by a heavy-oil engine like those used on London buses.

So long as British law—and British roads—forbids the use of speeds of over 30 m.p.h., the feat is mainly of academic interest, but it does emphasise once more how much of the potential efficiency of motor transport is allowed to run to waste. In this respect aviation is better circumstanced.

The time must come when the capabilities of the internal-combustion engine will be as fully utilised on land as they are in the air or as those of the steam engine on rails, so that the efforts of Capt. Eyston and others towards higher speeds are not as pointless as many people suppose.

It may be that the heavy-oil or diesel type of engine is the type of the future, and if petrol prices continue to rise its development will be greatly stimulated, if only because its m.p.g. is so much superior to that of the petrol engine. But whatever the power unit of the future car, it is, I think, certain that all changes in design must have two aims, greater speed and greater comfort.

"PRACTICAL LIMIT REACHED"

In the United States they are talking of having reached the practical usable limits of speed. Such was a recent declaration by a technical director of General Motors. But there is a reason for that which does not apply generally. American cars have all adopted ideals of steering and springing which tend to make high speeds unsafe.

I am told that attachable handles, like those on the steering wheels of steam traction engines, are now sold in the States, so low-geared has steering been made in order to ensure lightness. That is probably a libel, but not a gross one; anyhow, most American cars are definitely less stable and less easy to control at high speeds on any but dead-straight and dead-flat roads than British or Continental cars.

STIRRING STRUGGLE

The duel last Saturday between Earl Howe and the young Siamese prince before the former was involved in his first serious accident at Brooklands was as stirring a spectacle as followers of racing have seen for a long time.

Bira, in Whitney Straight's old but doughty Maserati, was definitely the faster, but Howe stuck to him most gallantly, and driving with the utmost verve and abandon passed him on the 20th lap, and then for five laps fought off all his efforts to regain the lead.

"IF I LIVE TO BE 500!"DON BRADMAN

According to "John Bull," the London newspaper, Don Bradman has made more money out of cricket than any other player — living or dead. That paper credits him with having made £50,000. Don smilingly disclaimed having amassed such a fortune when interviewed in Adelaide.

"If I live to be 500 I might play in enough Test matches to make somewhere near that figure," he remarked. "Possibly the newspaper has confused my 'fortune' with the number of runs made by Jack Hobbs or 'W.G.'"

Women Cricketers And Mr. Baldwin

London, May 7. — Members of the Australian women's cricket team which is to play 19 matches in this country, were presented to Mr. Baldwin, yesterday, at an At Home for the team at 10, Downing-street, held by Mrs. Baldwin.

Among those invited to meet the Australians were members of the White Heather Ladies' Cricket Club — with which Mrs. Baldwin has been associated for many years — and the officers and committee of the Women's Cricket Association.

Mr. Baldwin arrived unexpectedly during tea. He said, "Both my wife and I have umpired for the White Heather Club in the past — that is why we are here. But that must have been 45 years ago!"

Mrs. Margaret Peden, the Australian captain, said: "It was an unexpected thrill for us to be introduced to the Prime Minister. We are all very excited about it."

GOLF MUSEUMTo House Old Books And Clubs

Ross, Coumbrough, for many years secretary of Troon Golf Club, has bequeathed a substantial collection of golf books and old golf clubs to Scottish golfers. It is proposed to make a museum in Glasgow to house them.

Some people say that more books have been written on golf than cricket. In the pavilion at Lord's there are many old books and old bats, balls and stumps going back for more than a century.

BUDDY BAER CARNERA'S SUCCESSOR

HIS PARALYSING PUNCHES

TWO REFEREES CAUSE BIG UPROAR

WORLD CHAMPION MADE TO LOOK VERY POOR

(By Harold Lewis)

London, May 7.

ANGRY boos from a half-empty and, I fear, half-hearted house, greeted the end of the two chief fights at the Harringay Arena last night. First, the crowd thought Mr. Moss Deyong too tender-hearted when he stopped the heavy-weight fight between Buddy Baer and Jim Wilde, of Swansea, early in the fourth round, in favour of Baer, to save Wilde needless punishment.

THEN MR. C. H. DOUGLAS CAUSED A FURORE BY DISQUALIFYING THE WORLD'S FEATHER-WEIGHT CHAMPION, PETEY SARRON, OF AMERICA, IN THE NINTH OF HIS TEN ROUNDS' FIGHT WITH DAVE CROWLEY, OF CLERKENWELL. MR. DOUGLAS HAD JUST GIVEN SARRON HIS NINTH AND FINAL WARNING FOR HITTING WITH THE OPEN GLOVE.

Both referees were correct in their actions. It was impossible for Wilde to have won, unless by some accident causing a disqualification, and his pluck would undoubtedly have led him to accept more punishment than it was ever intended in the sport of boxing any man should be permitted to suffer.

Buddy Baer, giant brother of Max, former heavyweight champion, had something of his famous brother's air of non-chalance but none of his skill and, evidently, none of his glamorous power of attraction. He proved to be another such as Carnera, standing 6ft. 6½in. and weighing 17st. 4lbs., against Wilde's 14st. 12½lb.

Unlike Carnera, he hit with tremendous weight. Every punch, even though it landed only on a forearm, hurt Wilde, and the fight had not lasted a minute before Wilde probably realised that he had an overwhelmingly impossible task.

CRUSHING BLOW

Baer, like his elder brother, walked about the ring on the flat of his feet. He walked in with a reasonably good guard, and when he got to close quarters, shot out his enormous arms. His straight left, though only a leading-off blow, was itself crushing.

A comparatively light clip to the jaw was sufficient to put the strong Welshman down in the first round for a count of nine, and before that round ended a right-hand blow on the ear and a left-hook to the face sent Wilde to the floor for counts of eight and five seconds.

WILDE DOWN FOR LONG COUNT
Wilde boxed well in the second round, and with a good left exposed the fact that Baer had very little guard and no semblance whatever of footwork. When Wilde aimed for Baer's nose, Baer's nose duly took the punch.

But the end was merely a matter of time. The punches of this giant were paralysing. A blow on the back of the head dazed Wilde, and forced him to take a count of eight in the third round, and no sooner had the fourth opened than Wilde was knocked down again. He was up fairly quickly, but Mr. Moss Deyong intervened immediately.

Wilde was as indignant as any of the spectators. He wanted to go on, and no doubt he could have done. But he may have to thank the referee for more than he realises.

AVENGED BROTHER'S DEFEAT

Thus Buddy Baer can claim to some extent to have avenged the defeat of his brother, Max, by Tommy Farr, recently. He is certainly a most formidable opponent, but like Carnera, he is vulnerable. His brother has taught him well, and has produced a mechanical style in this prodigious young man which will take him some way; but not all the way.

Pete Sarron did nothing against Crowley last night to alter my view that he is the poorest world's champion ever sent from America. He was cautioned in his recent fight against Harry Mizler about hitting with the open glove, and last night, for everyone of the nine cautions made by Mr. Douglas, he must have offended ten times.

WILD-SLASHING-STYLE

It was a pity the fight had to end that way, for apart from this habit—a habit born of Sarron's wild, round-arm slashing style of attack—it had been a clean, hard fight, with much good boxing and action.

Whether Sarron was leading or not is impossible to say—it depended upon the degree of severity with which Mr. Douglas penalised him on his card. On blows struck the American was certainly well ahead.

The fight began with a frantic flurry between two fast, aggressive boxers, each attempting to take the other out of his stride. Crowley, in his feverish endeavours to attack, twice fell to his knees in the first round, at Sarron's feet, while he was himself surprised by the speed of the American's attack as the latter leaped in with flailing arms and a bewildering shower of all manner of punches.

MADE CHAMPION LOOK POOR

What Crowley needed here was a solid straight left. Crowley has fashioned himself into a hooker. In the succeeding rounds, however, he did very well, particularly with his favourite short punch to the stomach.

During a couple of rounds in the middle of the fight he made Sarron look very poor, but the American was shrewd enough to change his style: he began to wait for Crowley. It was then that the best was seen of Sarron. His evasions and heavy counters were brilliantly done, and he often caught fast punches with his glove with astonishing skill.

FOR LAST TIME

Despite his clever tricks and his increasing storm of punches, however, Sarron continued to be warned for his old habit, and a few seconds before the end of the ninth round Mr. Douglas called out distinctly, "I am warning you for the last time about hitting with the open glove."

As soon as the boxers met, Sarron delivered a good left, and

ADMISSION HIGH

If promoters could guarantee racing of that high standard regularly their financial troubles would be over, particularly if, as at the new Brooklands, the struggle can be watched at close quarters and from many different parts of the grounds.

But the enclosures on the hill need sorting out. It was not a happy idea to fence off the best part of the Members' Hill and charge members £1 for admission. The emptiness of the "pound" showed what they thought of it.

brought his right round to cuff Crowley with the side of the glove. The bell went simultaneously with Mr. Douglas's decision to disqualify Sarron.

It was some time before the public realised what had happened. They booed, partly through disappointment, and possibly also because they, too, were annoyed with Sarron.

The American is a powerfully built little man, able to take the hardest of punches without the slightest visible sign. It is a pity his style is so bad. One might almost say, without boasting about our boxing, but because of some regard for the rules by our referees, that if Sarron fought over here long enough he would be a far better boxer.

Sarron weighed 9st 6¼lb and Crowley 9st 7½lb.

AUSTRALIA OUT OF THE DAVIS CUP

UNITED STATES
EASY WIN

McGRATH NURSING TENDER HAND

Forest Hills, Yesterday.

America eliminated Australia from the Davis Cup competition, winning the first three matches played. Following Budge's win over Crawford, and Grant's victory over Bromwich, in the first two singles matches, Budge and Mako beat Crawford and McGrath in the doubles, 7-5, 6-1, 8-6, to clinch the issue.

The easy victory of America came as a surprise although the unfortunate indisposition of McGrath was a tremendous handicap to the Australians.

Unable to play in the singles owing to a feverish cold, McGrath was further inconvenienced in the doubles, as he was nursing a tender hand. Although he played courageously, he gave Crawford who was apparently still suffering from his efforts in the singles, very little support.

UNAVAILING RALLY

The Australians made a great effort in the final set when, 4-5 down, they fought four deuces to draw level at 5-5 and eventually take the lead at 6-5. They could not sustain the effort, however, and the Americans carried all before them in the concluding stages, Mako crashing over an ace for the winning point.—Reuter.

SATURDAY'S RESULTS

Donald Budge (U.S.A.) beat Jack Crawford (Australia) 6-1, 6-3, 6-2.

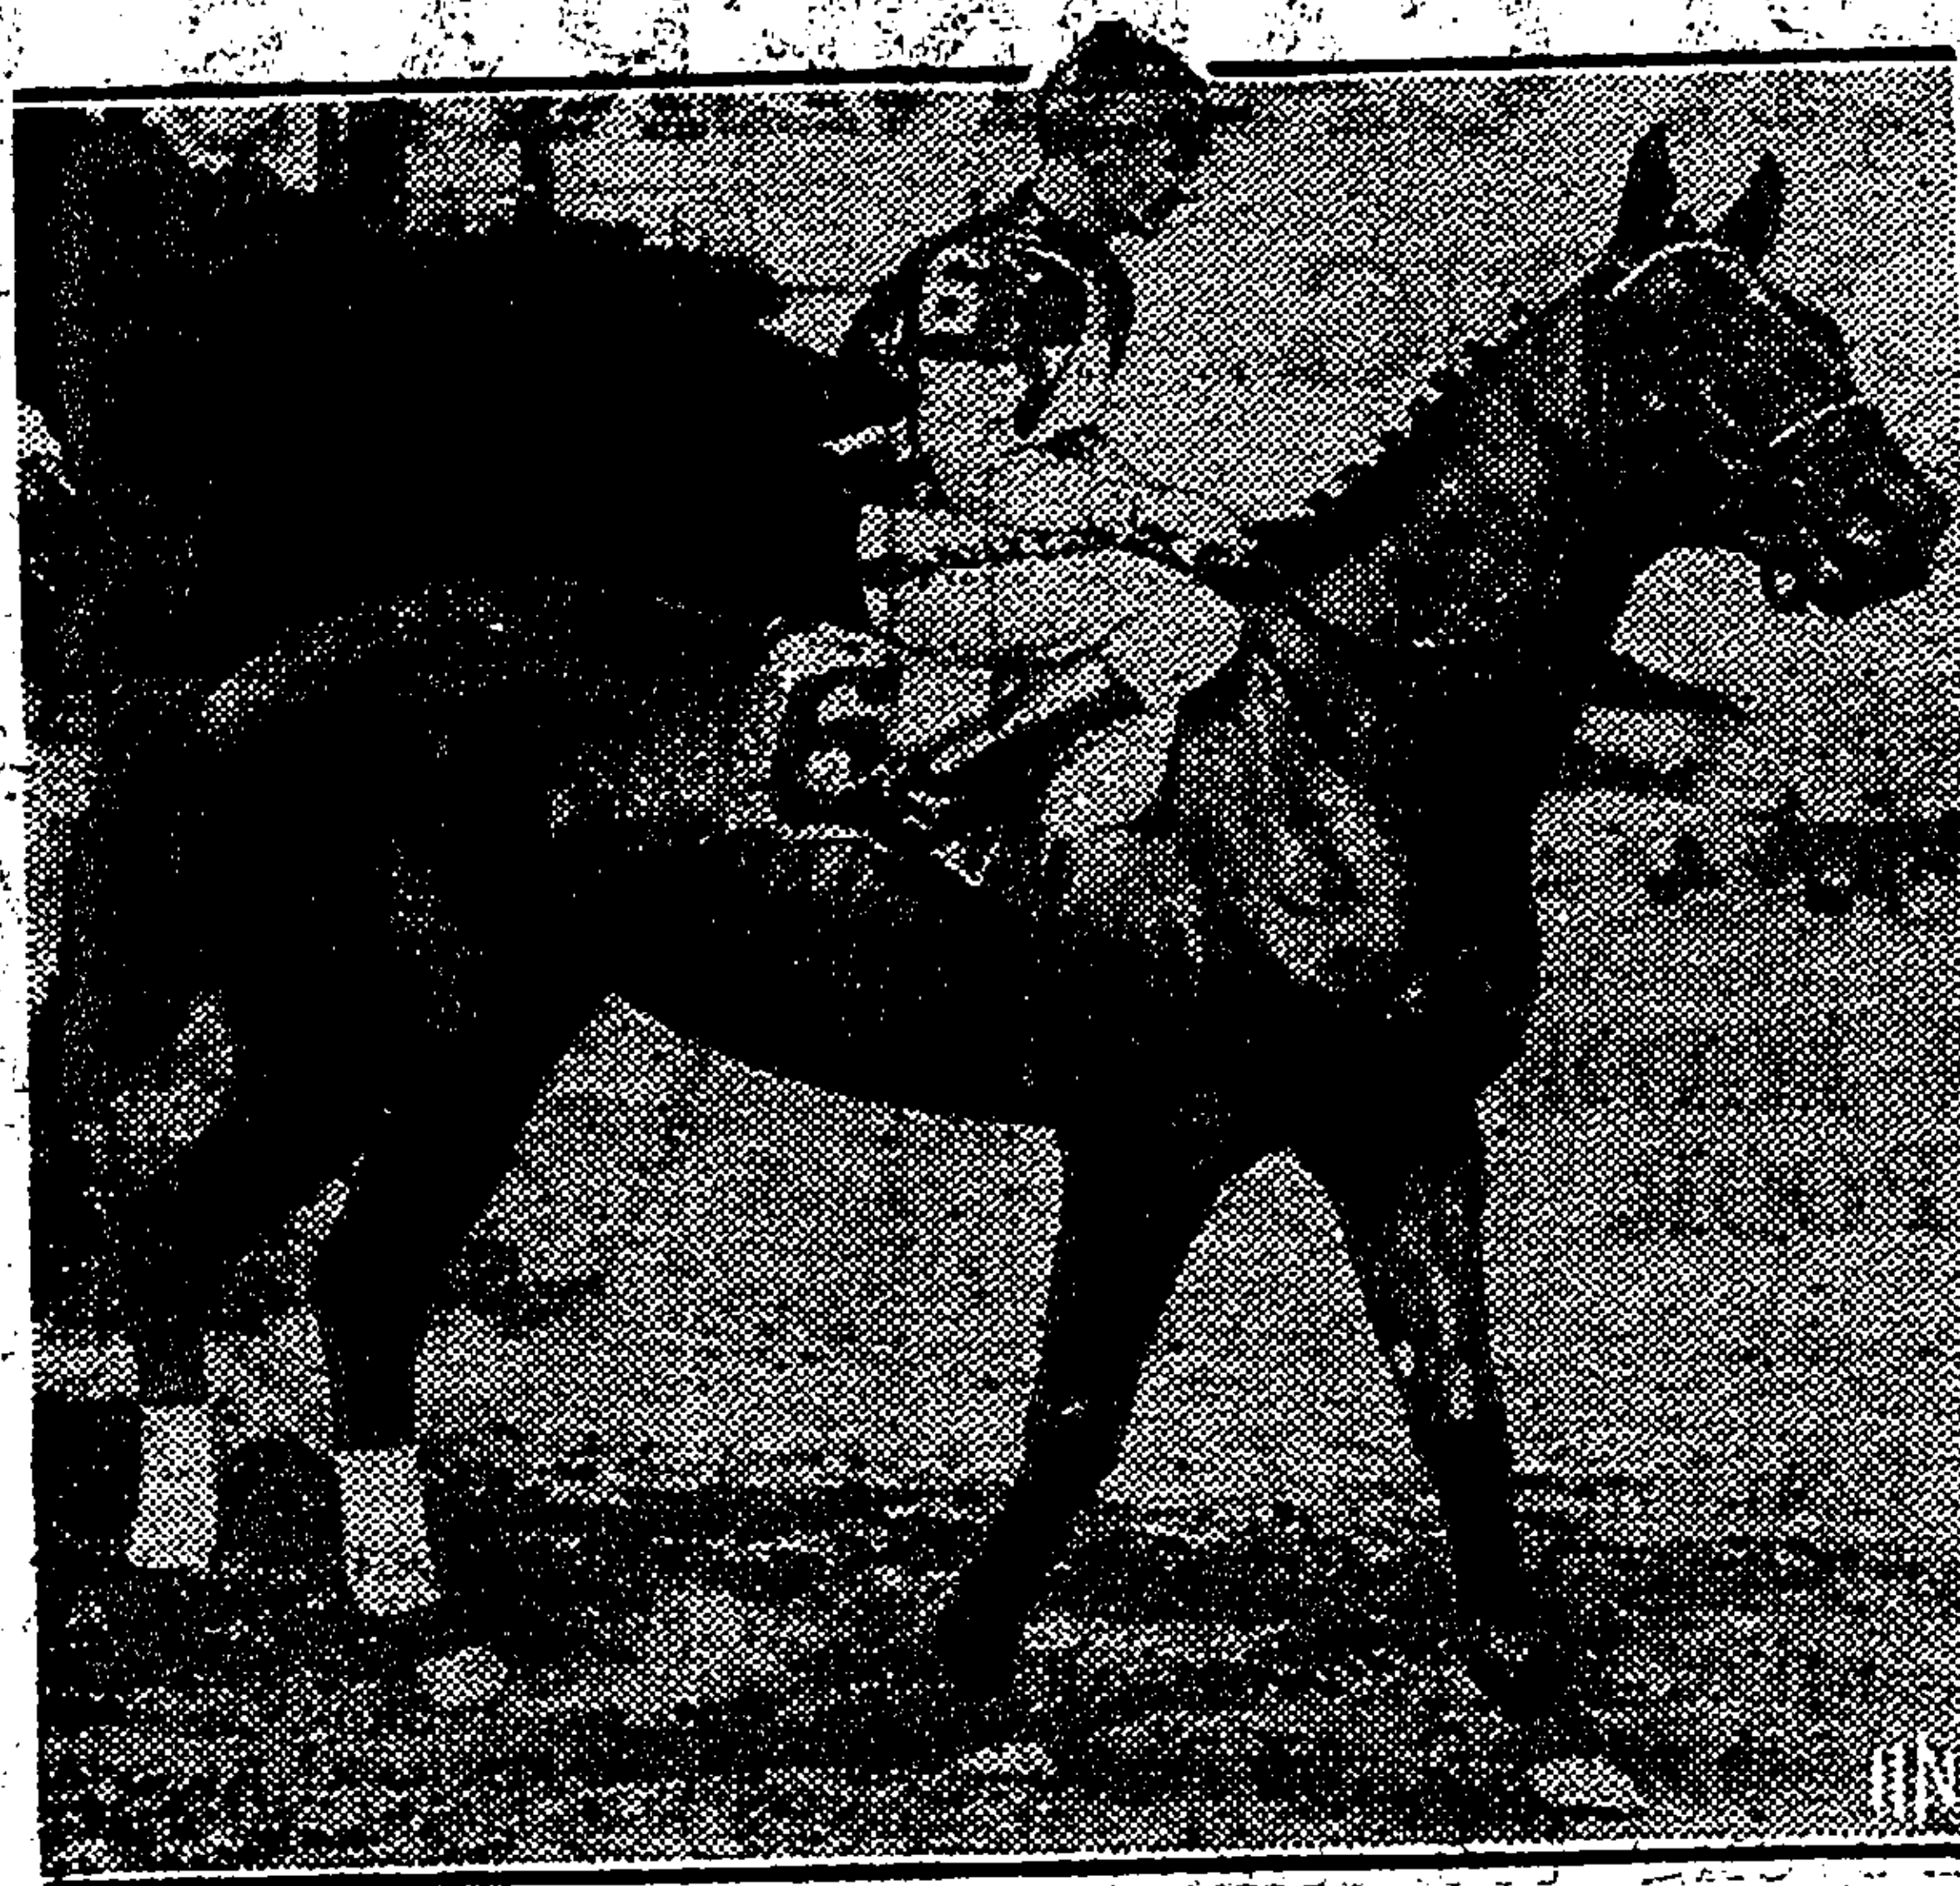

Bryan Grant (U.S.A.) beat John Bromwich (Australia) 6-2, 7-5, 6-1.

Budge was in the ascendancy throughout his match with Crawford, except for a brief period in the second set, when he grew careless. Crawford was steady and played courageously, but he could not withstand the length and vigour of Budge's drives.

In the last game Crawford made a magnificent rally during which he saved three match points with perfect placements, but throughout the match he frequently double-faulted and his forehand was weak.

GRANT IN GREAT FORM

Bromwich's straightforward style was unavailing against the versatile Grant, who brought out an extensive repertory of strokes and out-manoeuvred the Australian down completely.

"Case Ace," shown with A. Robertson up, carried the silks of Mrs. Ethel V. Mars to the post in the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs.

BARTON SISTERS' ROUND IN 68 AT WENTWORTH BUT LOSE BY TWO STROKES

London, May 4.

Despite a fine round of 68, Miss Pam Barton, holder of the British and American women's titles, and her sister, Miss Mervyn Barton, failed to repeat their last year's victory in the Bystander spring medal foursomes tournament yesterday at Wentworth.

Mrs. A. H. Gilligan (Roehampton) and Miss K. Garnham (The Naze) won with a 36-hole total of 151, having a score of 73 on the Centre course and 78 on the East course.

BUNKERED

The Barton sisters took 85 on the East in the morning and 68 on the Centre, to finish two shots behind the winners. They took three putts on each of five greens during a seven at the short tenth, where they were badly bunkerred.

They were in brilliant form on the Centre course, however, and after reaching the turn in 34 started back 3, 2, 3, Miss Mervyn Barton holing a 20-yards approach shot at the 11th. Bunker trouble cost them a six at the 15th, but they completed the half-round in 34.

H. HENKEL CAUSES SENSATION

Austin Beaten For French Title

Paris, To-day.

Heinrich Henkel, Germany's second string singles player and member of their Davis Cup team, caused a major sensation here yesterday when he disposed of H. W. "Bunny" Austin, England's first ranking player, in straight sets by 6-1, 6-4, 6-3, in the final of the Men's Singles, in the French Lawn Tennis Championships.

Henkel brought off perfect dropshots, lobs and passing shots, while he was visibly quicker about the court than his opponent.

Austin led 2-0 and then 3-2 in the second set, but Henkel rallied from a losing position to lead 4-3. Austin then played brilliantly and came level at 4-4, but faded away very disappointingly for the German to take the next two games and the set.—Reuter.

Heinrich Henkel is the second German to hold the French Singles championship, Baron Gottfried von Cramm, Germany's first ranking player and runner-up to Fred Perry at Wimbledon, being the first holder, when he defeated Jack Crawford, of Australia, by the odd set in five in the 1934 final.

Mme. Sperling Wins French Title

Paris, To-day.

In the final of the French tennis championships played at the Stade Roland Garros yesterday, Madame Hilda Sperling, of Denmark, defeated Madame Mathieu, of France, in straight sets by scores of 6-2, 6-4, to win the Ladies' Singles title.—Reuter.

German Victory In Doubles

Paris, To-day.

The French tennis championships which concluded last evening resulted in brilliant victories for the German Davis Cup players.

After Henkel had beaten Austin in the singles final, Henkel and Gottfried von Cramm won the dou-

DEATH OF MR. ALLAN CAMERON

LONG RESIDENT IN HONG KONG

The sad news was received this morning by the local office of the Canadian Pacific Railway of the death of Mr. Allan Cameron at the age of 74. Former Oriental Manager of the Company and one of Hong Kong's leading businessmen, Mr. Cameron, in addition to being on the Boards of many local companies, was a member of the Court of the Hong Kong University.

He was married to Miss Ethel Wood, of Ontario, and she survives to mourn his loss along with a brother, Mr. George Cameron, who is a mining engineer in Arizona, United States.

Mr. Cameron who joined the C. P. R. in 1883, first came to Hong Kong in 1901, his next appointment being that of General Traffic Agent in London, which post he assumed in 1908. He was subsequently transferred to New York and later became Superintendent of Lands in Calgary.

Visit Last Year

He was appointed Oriental Manager in 1922, which post he held until his retirement in 1933. In January and February of last year, Mr. Cameron returned to the Colony on a short visit to renew many old acquaintances and then visited Australia and New Zealand, from which trip he had just returned home. His death has come as a great shock to a host of friends in the Colony as no indication had been received here that he was in any ill-health.

Mr. Cameron was one of the pioneers of the Canadian Pacific Railway and assisted in the construction of that great line. Serving in the thick of the Riel Rebellion, he had many interesting stories to relate of battles with Red Indians.

As a sign of respect, the flags at the local office and the Hong Kong Club, are being flown at half-mast.

DR. H. H. KUNG FETED BY ITALIAN LEADERS

AUDIENCE OF KING IN COMPANY WITH ADMIRAL CHEN

Rome, To-day.

The Chinese Minister of Finance, Dr. H. H. Kung and Admiral Chen, the Navy Minister, were received in audience at the Quirinal Palace yesterday by His Majesty the King of Italy.

THE CHINESE GUESTS WERE CONVEYED TO THE PALACE IN THE ROYAL GALA CARRIAGE FROM THEIR HOTEL AND ON THEIR ARRIVAL INSPECTED A GUARD OF HONOUR. KING EMANUEL III REMAINED FOR A CONSIDERABLE TIME IN CONVERSATION WITH THE TWO MINISTERS ABOUT THE PROGRESS MADE IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF CHINA UNDER THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT.

Dr. Kung lunched at the Chinese Embassy, while Admiral Chen took part in a luncheon party given in his honour by the Italian Navy Union, attended by high officers of the Italian Fleet.

The afternoon they spent in making trips to places of interest in the neighbourhood of Rome, and at night they attended a banquet given at the Chinese Embassy in honour of Count Ciano, the Italian Foreign Minister, and his wife, Countess Edda, the daughter of Signor Mussolini.—Trans-Ocean.

ITALIAN WELCOME

Rome, To-day.

The Chinese Government Commission which arrived here on Saturday from London will later also visit the capitals of France, Germany, Belgium and the United States.

Italian newspapers yesterday published extensive biographies of the Vice-President of the Chinese Ministerial Council, Dr. Kung.

The Stampa emphasises the political sagacity which he displayed, particularly during the time when President Chiang Kai-shek was held a prisoner and declares that the President's liberation was due to Dr. Kung's prudent Government policy.

NEWSPAPER INTERVIEW

This success has strengthened the confidence in the National Government at home and abroad.

Dr. Kung told a representative of "Stampa" that he felt great pleasure at being again able to visit Rome which he visited for the first time in 1932. During his present stay, Dr. Kung said that he hoped to be able to acquaint himself with the achievements of Fascist Italy and above all the drainage of the Pontine Marshes, of which magnificent accomplishment much has been heard in China.

The relations between the Governments of Rome and Nanking were described as Dr. Kung as, "not only cordial and friendly but in process of rapid development." Modern China knew Fascist Italy very well and admired its great Duce.

COUNT CIANO AND CHINA

Marshal Chiang Kai-shek had authorised him to study the economic, industrial, commercial and agricultural progress made by Italy.

Especially appreciative words were expressed by Dr. Kung regarding Count Ciano whose acquaintance Dr. Kung made several years ago.

Count Ciano's exceptional knowledge of Far Eastern and Chinese affairs, concluded Dr. Kung, would be of inestimable value for the maintenance of good relations between Italy and China.—Trans-Ocean.

Banquet Given By Count Ciano

(SPECIAL TO "CHINA MAIL")

Rome, To-day.

The Chinese Deputy Prime Minister and Finance Minister, Dr. H. H. Kung and the Chinese Minister of the Navy, Admiral Chen Shao-kuan, have arrived here for a three-day stay.

They were received at the Railway station by the Italian Foreign Minister, Count Ciano and State Secretary in the Ministry of Navy, Signor Cavagnars. In the course of the day, the Chinese guests called on the Italian Foreign Minister, the Italian Finance Minister and the State Secretary of the Ministry of the Navy, afterwards laying wreaths on the memorial to Italian soldiers whom fell in the World War.

Count Ciano gave a banquet in honour of the guests on Saturday night.—Trans-Ocean.

STRICTLY PRIVATE CONVERSATION

Between Dr. Schacht And M. Blum

Paris, To-day.

The Premier, M. Leon Blum, received the President of the German Reichsbank, Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, for an hour's "strictly private conversation" yesterday.

The French Minister of Commerce, M. Paul Bastid, announced that the Franco-German commercial treaty would be completed in about three weeks' time. He was sure that the treaty would have a very favourable influence on the trade of both countries.—Trans-Ocean.

Occasional Rain

The Royal Observatory reports that the anti-cyclone is centred over the Pacific to the east of Japan and extends westward over the Yangtse Valley in the form of a ridge. Pressure is relatively low to the North-West of Shanghai and in a trough covering Tongking, and the northern China Sea. Forecast:—E. winds, moderate; cloudy generally, occasional rain.

BRITISH RAILWAY SMASH

London, To-day.

Yet another serious British railway smash has occurred, this time in Yorkshire where a woman was killed and six persons seriously injured.

The mishap occurred near Wakefield in extraordinary circumstances.

The last coach of an excursion train apparently fouled the points and was derailed. Bumping and shaking it was dragged along by the train for at least two hundred yards and then struck a signal gantry and overturned.—Reuter.

K.C.C. TENNIS TOURNAMENT SURPRISE

Playing in the men's handicap doubles competition, in the Kowloon Cricket Club tennis tournament, C. B. R. Sargent and B. J. Monks (rec. 3.6) rather surprisingly defeated S. A. Gray and G. Bodiker (owe 30) by scores of 6-4, 6-4.

Mr. Eden's Return

London, To-day.

Mr. Anthony Eden returned to London from the meeting of the League Council by air last evening.—Trans-Ocean.
